IBERIA SCHOOL STUDENTS HEAR CONSERVATION TALK

Game Management Agent Speaks to 300.

Special to The Star

IBERIA — Merrill Gilfillan, game management agent, Ohio Division of Conservation, talked to over 300 at the Iberia school last week as the community observed Arbor and Bird day with R. S. Beard as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Gilfillan pointed out everybody can do something to improve the community plant trees, preserve wild-flowers and plants, feed wild-life, build bird houses, control cats and dogs, keep livestock out of woodlots, save water and save soil through conservation practices.

Supt. E. E. Bowman presented Blue Ribbon certificates to 16 students who completed perfect papers in arithmetic fundamentals, compiled by County Supt. Honnold. Berta Mae Smith, Sandra Jane Swartz, Janet Suemiller, Annabelle Riddle, Gloria Ganson, Arlene Crider, Richard Wheatcraft, Charles Miller, Waunita Beck, Anna Mae Morton, Mary Lou Swartz, Jean Crider, Joyce Garverick, Carol Ann Phillips, Lois Phillips and Vivian Freeman received the awards.

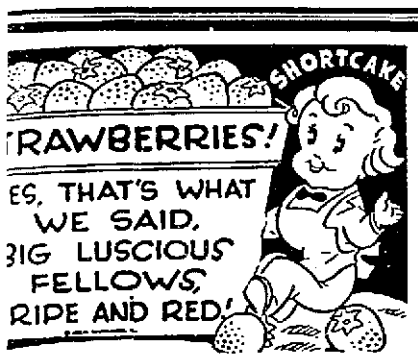

Miss Dona Clare Sheley led music. Beverly Worster read the proclamation of Gov. Lausche. Arden Garverick and Grover Nelson gave a tree planting demonstration.

Robert Vickers, science teacher, awarded prizes in the wren-house contest sponsored by Iberia Boy Scout Troop No. 35, to Donald Amick, Dale Miller, Richard McClarren and Joe Wilcox.

ASHLEY WEATHER REPORT

ASHLEY—We were thrilled to have the report that the water in Lake Erie is now much warmer than the air on the land, indicating, as those experienced in temperatures say, that we will now have warm weather. The temperature of the water was reported to be 49 while the land temperature was 27.

STATE JOB TRIALS SET FOR JUNE 25-29

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 2—The state civil service commission yesterday set June 25-29 for a second series of examinations to create eligible lists of job applicants for work now done by provisional appointees.

The first series was held in March as a result of a threat of the federal government to withhold funds from state welfare agencies receiving its support unless the personnel were brought under civil service. Thousands of provisional appointments were made without examinations during the war because of manpower shortages.

The examinations will be held at Ohio university, Athens; Cambridge Central High school; Canton McKinley High; Cleveland Central High; Columbus North High; Cincinnati Withrow High, Dayton Roosevelt High, Lima Central High, Mansfield John Simpson Junior High, Portsmouth High, and Toledo Macomber High.

Examinations will be given for the following jobs:

June 25—Welfare department case worker—$180-$200 a month; bureau of unemployment compensation examiner grade II, $250-$251.33; BUC examiner grade III, $200-$233.33; BUC examiner grade IV, $150-$153.33; BUC board of review referee, $275-$375.

June 26—Division of aid for the aged subdivision manager, grade I $216.66-$243.33; subdivision manager grade II, $175-$216.66; subdivision manager, grade III, $166.66-$200; BUC payroll auditor, Grade I, $225-$275; payroll auditor grade II, $150-$200; welfare department county visitor, $50-$150.

June 27—Aid for the aged investigator, $125-$175; field representative, aid for the aged, $2,100-$3,200 a year; field representative division of social administration $2,100-$3,300.

June 28—Clerks grade I, BUC, aid for the aged, and social administration, $125-$175; clerks grade II, $70-$120.

June 29—Check-writing, calculating any key punch machine operators; grade I, BUC, $100-$120.

Grocer Gets Prison in Attack on Child

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, May 2—Frank Lobaido, 29-year-old grocer, yesterday was sentenced to serve from 40 years to life imprisonment on each of two counts of rape and attempted murder of 7-year-old Rosalie Giganti.

Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Groat, imposing the sentences, recommended Lobaido serve the maximum of life imprisonment concurrently on each count.

The state charged that Rosalie was raped in the rear of Lobaido's grocery last Jan. 27. She was found, her throat slashed, in a trash can near the store. She survived.

MONOPOLISM ASSAILED

Editor of The Star: The Franco regime in Spain is being perpetuated in power because of the refusal of the United States and Britain to cease political and economic relations with the fascist regime in Spain.

The United States state department is aware of the Nazi financial holdings in Spain and possesses information pertaining to the Nazi monopolies in Spain. We know for a certainty that these Nazi industries are hotbeds of production for implements of war and for experiments on atomic energy.

As 700,000 Franco troops, including Nazis, are massed along the Spanish-French border, and as the Franco regime continues to suppress and murder the democratic forces of Spain, so our state department and the U. S. delegates to the UN, Byrnes and Stettinius and the British delegate to the UN, Cadogan, continue to appease the bloody, murderous, fascist regime of Franco.

The present policy of the United States and Britain to carry on political and economic relations with the Franco government is inevitably strengthening the armed, terroristic forces of Franco.

The Spanish people have not asked for armed intervention on the United States and Britain, but have asked only that all countries cease relations with the Fascist Franco regime.

The hirelings and the spokesmen for the monopoly interests have the gall to blast forth in the press and on the air waves with their monopolistic propaganda that the cessation of relations with Franco would precipitate a civil war in Spain. Demogogues! The blood of the Spanish people has never ceased to flow. The butcher Franco has not ceased to murder the people. The Spanish people have not ceased to struggle against this fascist beast that is being fed and strengthened by the imperialists, the monopolists.

Monopolism is the enemy of all peoples of all nations. The same monopoly interests that engage in trade with the brutal Franco regime against the will of the people of Spain is an enemy both of the Spanish people and the American people.

The monopoly interests in the United States at this time are demonstrating through their organization, the National Association of Manufacturers, their contempt for the American people. They are waging a relentless fight, supported by their stooges in congress, against the extension of the Office of Price Administration. They are not interested in the welfare of the American people, but are only interested in adding an increase to their swollen war profits.

Increased profits to the monopolists, if OPA is abolished, will cut the purchasing power of the workers, thus cutting the income of the independent business people. It will increase the prices of homes for our veterans, and will increase the cost of farm production for the farmers. Abolition of price controls would only lead to a wild spiral of inflation which would result in utter chaos to the whole of the American people.

The evil octopus of monopolism has its tentacles spread over the whole world. One tentacle is choking the democratic struggles of the people of Spain; another tentacle is attempting to strengthen its choking grasp of the people of America.

We have a few representatives in our congress who have not retreated before the onslaught of the monopolists. These few congressmen are courageously and vigorously fighting the monopoly interests, they are fighting to maintain and strengthen democracy here at home, and they are fighting to free the Spanish people from the yoke of Franco fascism, a brutal form of monopolism.

We must support our progressive congressmen and we must speak and act against the reactionary congressmen who are attempting to subjugate us to monopolism, and trying to lead us to the destruction of the democracies and the peoples of the world.

Prostate Gland Trouble?

I'm a railroad man and for over 3 years had difficulty working because of backaches due to Prostate Gland trouble. Doctor's formula proved of great benefit and before and since his death have sold them (now called Watt's Suppositories) to railroad men and others the country over. Fine testimonials and repeat business show the good work they do. Backache, getting up nights, often indicate an inflamed Prostate Gland. I guarantee your money back if not given relief. One dozen Watt's Suppositories $1.25; 2½ dozen for $2.50. Sold at Henney & Cooper Drug Store.—Adv.

He expects to be joined here later by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Virginia Tyo, who makes her home in Florida. He is to report back to his base May 22.

BERRY PRICES LIFTED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 2—Price controls were suspended indefinitely today on all canned, frozen and preserved berries and berry products except cranberries. OPA acted with the approval of Stabilization Director Chester Bowles, after the department of agriculture reported that 1946 crop of berries would be 35 to 40 per cent larger than last year's, thus relieving the supply shortage.

Healing Agent

Doctors are like generals The more weapons they have at their command the more varied precise and thoroughgoing their attack can be and the greater the chance of success

Thus, news of another healing agent is always good news particularly where it is one effective against infected wounds because such infections once entrenched are likely to hold on with stubborn tenacity

Urea a substance formed in the body and eliminated through the kidneys, has been found to have a beneficial effect in the treatment of infected wounds Non-toxic and apparently non irritating it will of itself dissolve dead tissue and when used locally with sulfonamides will help control infection

Recently Drs Cecil P G Wakeley and George Blum of England have found it particularly helpful when combined with iodine Apparently this combination of drugs stops the growth of germs and these physicians have found it especially useful in infected burns and wounds which do not respond to penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs

For six months they used the preparation on 108 cases of injuries such as fractures in which the bones had broken through the skin skin wounds and burns All of the patients had been treated with penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs

In carrying out the treatment the wounds were washed out with hydrogen peroxide and in the cases of fractures any loose portions of bone were removed The area was then dried with sterile gauze A liberal amount of the urea-iodine preparation was then placed in the wound

A dry dressing was applied over this gauze to keep the dressing in place In the case of fractures a plaster cast was then put on and left on for three weeks or a month At the end of this time the wound was re-dressed

It was found that, with this treatment, at the end of three to four weeks little, if any infection was left, and the wounds were healing rapidly Regardless of how much of the urea-iodine was put into the wounds there was no reaction. Also, there was a complete lack of pain following this treatment. No interference occurred in the healing of the bone

In the treatment of burns, the preparation was put on and a bandage applied

An ointment of the mixture may also be used. The results on all of the cases treated were satisfactory

THURSDAY, MAY 2, 1946

Elmer J. Schoenlaub

LISTED among Marion men who have been outstanding in activities contributing to the city's advancement and general welfare is Elmer J. Schoenlaub, whose death occurred yesterday.

His was a record of service that was virtually unceasing during the last 25 years or more. Most noteworthy in the honor roll of activities credited to him, and doubtless the one which gave him greatest satisfaction, was his leadership in Marion county's contribution to the financing of this country's part in World War II. As chairman of the county's War Finance Committee throughout the war years, he was directing head of the eight war loan campaigns, in which the county exceeded all its quotas and established one of the best records in Ohio. For this he received official recognition and commendation from the U. S. Treasury and also the unofficial but equally definite acclaim and gratitude of his home community.

In this work, which occupied a major portion of his time for several years and which doubtless jeopardized his health at times, his frequently expressed thought was that people at home should give unsparingly of their time, effort and money to support the young men and young women in service. His concern for them and his appreciation of their sacrifices also led him to take a place of leadership in the movement for a Marion County Veterans' Memorial Home, a project now well under way.

In the years preceding the war Mr. Schoenlaub was a participant in virtually every movement and campaign aimed to make Marion a better place for its people, young and old. He responded to all calls, either as a worker in the ranks or as a leader, and usually he was asked to lead, for in this role his energy, sincerity and determination were of such value that success was virtually assured from the beginning.

Especially interested in affairs relating to young people, he shown in his concern for those in the war, he was for many years prominent in Y.M.C.A. work, recognizing it as an agency foremost in providing wholesome youth recreation and training. Improvement and maintenance of public educational facilities also received his attention and support and he was one of the most enthusiastic advocates of the school building program to be voted on May 7. In fact, his interest in this program, which he recognized as supplying a vital need for Marion and its young people, did not lag even during his last illness, and only a day or so before his sudden death he sought to aid with helpful suggestions by telephone from his home.

And so here was an example of civic service which lasted until the final days of life. This and the years of service thus brought to a close provide impressive evidence of the serious loss the community has suffered in the death of Elmer J. Schoenlaub.

Mutual Assistance Means Something

A MEASURE of the revolutionary change in international relations since 1939 is the new importance of mutual assistance pacts, such as Secretary of State Byrnes has proposed for the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France against Germany.

Before the war, such pacts were limited in fact to the assistance possible on the ground and on water. Great Britain could not honor its pact with Poland because it could not reach Poland. It could declare war on Germany, but that did not help the Poles in their plight.

But this situation changed as the war progressed. The United States, barred from China by Japan's shrewd strategy of encirclement, hurdled the barriers by plane. The first contact of the western Allies with Russia was by plane. During the war airplanes brought every part of the earth within hours of every other part. When the atomic bomb was developed, the revolution was complete; isolationism had been overthrown forever.

A mutual assistance pact at the halfway mark of the 20th century might mean that recourse to its provisions would bring down on the offending nation within a matter of days at the most a swarm of planes capable of wiping out every important city and strategic target, if such drastic action happened to be needed.

International treaties still may prove to be scraps of paper in the showdown, but never by necessity if the signatories possess air power.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

White House Helps CIO Rout Communists.

WASHINGTON, May 2 — The epochal movement within left-wing labor to shake off the Communists is being quietly helped by the White House. What is behind it can now be set forth as follows:

Since Mr. Byrnes firmed his back against further Russian encroachments in world affairs, the more radical CIO-PAC crowd has been arousing criticism against President Truman and the administration, or was until about ten days back. Statements and speeches from the sidewalk people took the Moscow line on pending international issues, adhering to the same technique as when a union picketed the White House to call Mr. Roosevelt a war monger for helping Britain before Russia was invaded, and more recently when the state department was picketed by a union urging ouster of Mr. Byrnes for resisting Russian demands.

Mr. Truman's Ire Up

The latest rousing of criticism got under Mr. Truman's skin, as well as some very high union labor hide. Important labor leadership immediately became involved in an internal conflict, the ramifications of which have not yet been disclosed. The CIO-PAC director, Sidney Hillman, has been conspicuously laying low, while some unions in CIO have been taking steps to revise their constitutions to bar Communists from office and membership. Hillman has close relationships with the American Labor party in New York, for whom the Communists have been the most active doorbell ringers and vote-fixers. Apparently this element of labor hates to lose its Communist schemers with a congressional election campaign in the offing.

But CIO President Phil Murray is reported getting tired of Communist use by CIO-PAC, or what might more accurately be called Russian use of them for international policy purposes. Some labor authorities report him cool toward Hillman, suggest Hillman may be replaced as head of CIO-PAC or predict a showdown between Murray and Hillman.

Regardless of these reports, any level eye can plainly see Mr. Hillman is caught in an enigmatic whirlwind. If he lets the Communists go, he may lose his organization; if he keeps them, the organization may crack.

I would not be surprised if the White House aided in the cracking, strange as this may sound. Latest appointments of an undersecretary and three assistants in the labor department went the AFL way. CIO has one labor undersecretary and is pressuring Truman through him. The latest appointments, however, have been followed by reports that AFL no longer intends to split administration patronage with CIO on an equal basis, but will see what it can get for itself.

AFL Speeds Up Action

Then AFL is going into the south to organize unions on the greatest scope of opposition it has yet presented. CIO plans in the south are supposed to call for 200 experienced organizers working under leadership of the textile workers union, men who have trained in the Hillman school of action. In competition with this activity, AFL is planning an even greater organizing campaign in the south, and the catch-all District 50 of John L. Lewis has marked out an anti-CIO organizing campaign to get in all the loose unions otherwise unclassifiable in AFL. Thus an intense organizational rivalry is springing up which may reach its bitterest proportions in the fields of textiles, telephones, chemicals and plastics. I say these are apt to be the sharpest fields because few observers expect the rivalry in the south to be of great industrial consequence. In the first place there is not much industry in the south which is not already organized one way or another. The field there at least is limited by comparison with the greater industrial sections of the country. Southern organizing especially the CIO-PAC kind, is apt to cover political activity (ousting of southern congressmen and senators who have resisted labor legislation) rather than develop any great new numbers for the unions.

Out of this high pressured situation, observers are commonly predicting a new wave of many hundreds of small jurisdictional strikes during coming months, and a period of exceptional labor unrest.

Love Laughs at Landlords

A Cleveland court has ruled that birth of children in an "Adults Only" apartment is not legal grounds for eviction.

Add to the freedoms we hold so dear—a new one, Renters' Rights.

That decision was long overdue. There was but one alternative, race suicide.

With "No Children or Dogs" signs on every door, the apartment dweller was supplanting the Indian as the vanishing American.

This will revolutionize city life. For many years, the only patter of little feet around most rental property has been mice.

Of course, some tenants went ahead and had children anyway. But it was pretty inconvenient, having to cram them in the clothes hamper each time there were footsteps in the hall.

America should be a better place to live now that a whole generation won't grow up illegitimate in the eyes of the lease.

Author of the Week

By W. G. ROGERS

MARTINE ROUCHAUD

Martine Rouchaud wrote "The Time of Our Lives," which is the story of a French family from 1940 to 1944, when she wasn't playing games with toy soldiers, romping with sisters and cousins, catching up on lessons, swimming, packing and unpacking for the frequent moves from city to country to city again, ranging the country to look for a cabbage, a chicken or milk, hiding in the Paris "Metro" for safety during air raids. The author was 14 when she started to write this account of her father, then in this country. He showed it to publisher friends, who wisely jumped at the chance to print it. When it appeared in Paris, it won a literary prize.

A country stung by a crushing defeat, a home disrupted and a family fleeing from Germans as well as hunger....all this surfeit of catastrophe is "the time of our lives" to the young Rouchauds.

The author, who is one of them, is so youthful you can imagine her putting down her dolls to pick up her pen. She was 14 when her mother told her to write this so that the father, when he returned from the U. S., would know how they had lived during the war. The mother, who was on a Paris newspaper, seems to have supervised the composition carefully, but it is the child's point of view which comes through clearly, and it constitutes a unique record.

Hardship for grownups is fun for children. To be sure, the girls, and the occasional boy, realize there is a war when they see Mme. Rouchaud in tears, when an uncle comes tottering home from battle, when they encounter a Jew. And there's no doubt about it in their minds when they duck into Paris subways during an air raid, or under bed covers while bullets whistle through the streets, or when they play tricks on the occupying Germans.

The family is fairly well-to-do, with money, servants, friends in high places, education, homes of their own or of relatives scattered through France. But for four years they are refugees; they spend all their time packing up, moving, getting settled, packing up again, and make the circuit from near Paris down to the Mediterranean and back.

But for Martine, her three sisters, numerous cousins and friends, life goes on. It's great sport to crowd into a truck or squeeze into a train, or journey by ox or mule cart. There are new babies; servant troubles, teasing and fooling.

Though against an ominous background of thunder, it's a grand holiday. Schooling goes by the board. But there was no lack of real education, as you can appreciate when you read this book by one of the unschooled daughters.

River Boom Seen

KANSAS CITY—A post-war revival of river commerce and new action for the control of waters against floods and for use in power development were reported here recently.

Docking of the Franklin D. Roosevelt which arrived with a shipment of Brazilian coffee and returned loaded with Kansas wheat had marked the opening of a new era of navigation in the region as engineers announced that the Missouri river will soon be a broad-gauge main-line route.

First major action was reported on the Pick-Sloan plan which calls for a program of control for reservoirs, flood walls and levees and will ultimately turn the waters of ten states to the use of man.

To a Busy Chaplain

LEOMINSTER, Mass.—Col. Albert Goodlieb, chaplain recently discharged from the Army, tells a story of how during the Battle of the Bulge he risked his life to bring mail to the boys. When he opened his own letter, he found that it was a letter from his draft board asking why he had not kept them informed of his address.

Hindu Censorship

The rules of Hindu drama insist that every play must have a happy ending, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Death and deeply tragical incidents are excluded from the drama, and biting, scratching, kissing, eating and sleeping are not ordinarily permitted on the stage, although such rules are occasionally broken by playwrights.

It was Saturday, May 2, 1936.

Bold Venture, with a record of 2.03 3-5, won the sixty-second Kentucky Derby in the third fastest time in the track's history. Only Twenty Grand, holder of the record, and Old Rosebud ever traveled the traditional mile and a quarter in faster time. The price paid on Bold Venture—$43 for $2, was the longest odds since Exterminator, "Old Bones," paid nearly 30 to 1 in 1918.

Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session at Columbus, announced to the quadrennial general conference their determination to keep the church from affiliation with any political party and to continue their fight against the liquor trade.

Twelve years of litigation ended with the announcement by Roy J. Winsor, 45, of 479 East Center street, that his rights had been established as the inventor of a grading machine already in use as a standard piece of equipment in the road building and maintenance industry. The settlement cleared the way for royalty payments estimated to range from $25,000 to $40,000 annually for 17 years.

Harding High Girl Reserves entertained with a sweetheart dance at the Edison Junior High school gym. Arrangements were in charge of Misses Patricia Stoll, Elsie Knapp, Margery Pocock, Margaret Ann Mautz, Elaine Strawser, Elizabeth Stoll, Mary Virginia Long, Esther Schoor and Louise Gracely.

Mrs. Roy E. Crawford died at her home at 382 West Columbia street.

Seventy-five couples attended the annual spring dance given by the Young Democratic Voters club at the Elks' hall. The committee included Miss Mildred Hollandshead, chairman, Dr. Dee Sherrer of Wilmington, Willard Henney and David Morgan.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, May 2, 1926.

Marion local of the American Federation of Musicians authorized its president, C. W. Davidson, to meet with trustees of the Harding Memorial association to arrange a program of music for the Harding Memorial cornerstone laying.

Mrs. R. G. Cheney of North State street returned from a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Jackson of New York City.

Miss Edna Gertrude Brewer, student in Bowling Green Normal school at Bowling Green, O., visited over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Brewer, north of Marion. She had as guests Miss Avis LaTurner and Miss Helen Smith of Shelby and Miss Mabel Lyon of North Baltimore, also students at Bowling Green.

A state meeting of the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity was held at Hotel Harding. Among the state officers were Warren D. Stull, secretary, and Roscoe Rank, treasurer, both of Marion.

The Marion Athletics won their first baseball game of the season, defeating Lima at Lincoln park 11-6. Main pitched for Marion and the catching was done by Lawrence and Conroy.

Marion enjoyed its first summer weather, the temperature registering 84.

THE Paris Peace Conference will find easy sailing in adjusting the boundaries of Europe. A new Poland presented the major boundary issue, and that has been settled. The fact is that Europe is old, the peoples of Europe have adjusted themselves to national boundaries, and the pieces fall back in place with little trouble.

The real rub will come when the foreign ministers try to find governments within the countries of Europe which can stand the test of time. For, unlike Talleyrand and associated statesmen who put Humpty-Dumpty Europe together in 1814-15, our present-day statesmen are looking for something besides legitimate kings and princes. The search this time will be for a new kind of "legitimacy."

Five years ago, Guglielmo Ferrero pointed out, in "The Reconstruction of Europe," that, under Talleyrand, the congress of Vienna replaced the revolutionary governments of the Napoleonic era with more or less chastened monarchs, who tried to compromise internal hatreds and to provide something of the substance of government satisfactory to the majority of the people. Americans greatly distrusted this return to kingship, and the Monroe Doctrine was our warning that we wanted none of their influence over here. But, as Ferrero contended, the antiques held together until Europe caught its breath, and a stretch of reasonable peace followed.

Once more, Europe has liquidated a lot of revolutionary governments, mostly Fascist or near-Fascist. Present-day statesmen realize that Europe must first purge itself of all remains of the governments of the Fascist revolution. But the world has outgrown its royal families since Talleyrand, and there are very few exiled kings who could get the confidence of their former people.

Legitimacy must be found elsewhere than in kings or princes. Ferrero himself recognized this. He said: "There is only one political form which is possible today for a Western people, and that is a representative government, a government whose powers are all, directly or indirectly, delegated by the people, who are bound to obey them...But for a representative government to be, not a travesty imposed by force, but a serious institution possessing a prestige which is indispensable to its sovereignty, two conditions are necessary: that the right of opposition be respected, and that there be free elections. The majority has the right to govern, but the minority has the right to present its case, to criticize the government, and to attempt to become the majority by convincing the people."

Great Issue In Paris

This is the great issue in Paris. I take it that Messrs. Byrnes and Bevin are not insistent upon little replicas of Britain or the United States. Socialist or even Communist governments can be tolerated, if the will of the majority sustains them.

But whatever the form of government, it can provide stability only if the right of a minority to criticize or to seek to become a majority is recognized. This is not true in Russia, of course, but only Russia can change that. In most countries, there is no Communist majority. Russia must recognize, on its side, and the United States and Britain must recognize, on theirs, that the stability everybody seeks is in political systems sustained not by force, but by the balance of majority and minority parties.

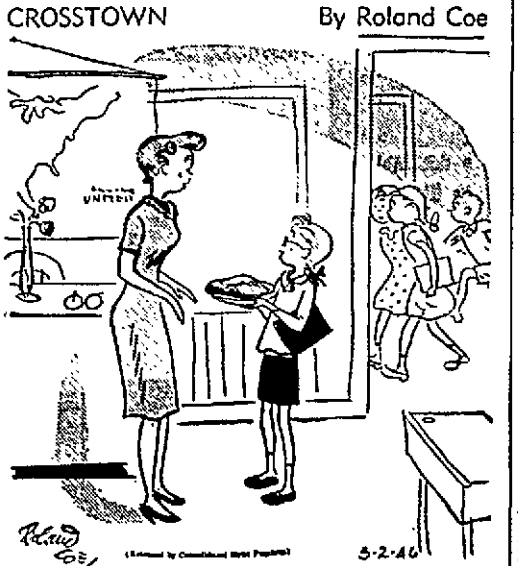

If this principle is freely accepted by Molotov, as well as by Byrnes and Bevin, not only will Russia win its point on Spain, but the Western Powers will feel easier about the small states in Eastern Europe.

Worms Turn, Resume Life

Revival of living animals after a sleep—or a period of complete desiccation—of 39 years was completed recently by two Department of Agriculture biologists, who achieved a record for bringing the dead back to life in the animal world.

The resuscitated creatures were species of tiny worms found in 1906 as wheat parasites in Kansas. A specimen of a grain seedling had been sent to Washington at that time by a Department of Agriculture inspector, and preserved in the herbarium of the division of plant industry. A few days ago, a leaf was submitted for identification, and when soaked in water, the little worms came to life. They apparently were as active as they ever had been.

Baseball Unions

UNIONIZED baseball is now in the work. We may yet see the regular umps replaced by the NLRB with Bob Wagner stepping in "Happy" Chandler's shoes and the battery for the day including J. Caesar Petrillo or John L. Lewis.

The next few years may bring a demand for the five-inning game!

Possible news from the baseball game of tomorrow:

Chicago, May 30.—Today's game with the Yankees was stopped in the third. Players of both teams refused to continue until they were granted the right to examine the company books.

Philadelphia, July 2.—Following the walkout of the home team and the Boston team here yesterday both clubs were taken over by the Government today. Connie Mack was carried out by four members of the State militia. President Truman promised the fans the balance of the season would see the best games of which the Democratic party is capable.

New York, July 15.—Before the game could get under way here today both club owners rose to submit to a demand that no pitcher could be removed from the box without six weeks' notice subject to immediate reinstatement unless sufficient cause shall be established in hearings before joint State and Federal boards.

Large crowds were on hand to see the first contest played under the new union rules which entitled the batter to five strikes.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Fans who arrive here early to see the teams warm up were surprised to find that all pre-game practice has been abolished by the National Labor Relations Board following a two-month huddle on union demands. The board upheld the players' contention that batting and fielding practice constitute capitalistic exploitation of the ball players, deprived them of spare time to which they were entitled as free men and was in violation of the Wagner Act.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 4.—The new rule under which all the pitchers on any one ball club get full credit for any victory won by any one pitcher went into effect here this afternoon.

Next week will inaugurate the newly won union concession under which no errors are publicly called or published.

Boston, Aug. 22.—No game today. Contest called off on account of picketing.

CAN YOU REMEMBER

Away back when you went to the movie for amusement?

Mayor O'Dwyer of New York is on the ranch of his brother in El Centro, California. Possibly the idea is to find out whether a Mexican saddle would be any help in New York.

Daylight saving is in effect, giving you another hour of daylight in which to get your train schedule mixed up.

It is announced that 121 two-story garden apartment houses will be erected in Flushing for UN. In deference to Gromyko they will all be "walk-ups."

We can hardly wait to hear "Flushing" pronounced in fifty languages.

President Truman has been cruising on a airplane carrier. We understand that he still holds there are bigger flat-tops in congress.

Yale is opening courses in civilization. The question whether "Boola Boola" is a jungle cry will be gone into thoroughly.

High-Speed Barbering

By TRUMAN TWILL

All over the country, wherever hair grows the price of haircuts keep going up and up and up. It now costs as much as $4 an hour to relax in a barbershop chair, except at that price most customers are as edgy as a handful of used razor blades and can't enjoy themselves.

This is not a complaint, only an opening statement. It reminds us of the way some of the boys used to barber years ago when they couldn't locate the 67½ crock, or maybe the horse clipper were loaned out to someone. They never worried about barbers and the high price of haircuts. They had their own system.

It gave a bald man better than an even break because bald men actually got a better haircut with less trouble. Of course in those days there was no expense to barber work. It was to be years before someone discovered people would pay to get their hair cut.

When the crock was lost or broken or the horse clippers weren't available for one reason or another, the boys trimmed their hair over the front lid on the kitchen stove. It was quick, spectacular and if the barbers haven't been lying to us about singeing, it was healthy.

The idea was to singe off the surplus. Or if it was spring and everything was surplus, everything could be singed. When a customer was going to shoot the works, that was more spectacular than a controlled singe, though in case of a bushy head of hair singeing the whole thing also had to be controlled to keep from burning the customer to a crisp.

The way it was done was to build a hot fire in the stove and give it the draft until a thick bed of red-hot coals had been built up on the grates. The victim, or the customer as he would be described now, took a lidlifter in one hand and a wet towel in the other and held his head over the stove hole when the lid was removed. Sssssst!

The trick was to be quick with the towel. Otherwise, this method of removing hair could turn itself into a method of broiling the scalp. Some of the boys were slick at it. They were so quick with that towel they could shave themselves on Saturday night over a lamp chimney.

There used to be a story one of them had shaved himself with a blow-torch and a towel, but no one actually saw this happen. Lamp chimney shaves, however, were common. So were stovehole haircuts.

Where a bald man had the advantage was in not needing to worry about the top of his head. That was the hardest part. A fellow had to stand on a chair. A bald man handy with the towel and knowing his business could trim himself as neat as anyone could ask in five minutes without a cent of expense and only a modicum of danger. Occasionally someone caught fire and died, but not often.

ST. LOUIS—Thomas Shannon, father of five children, studied law while he walked a night beat for five years and served on the police department's secret service squad for six.

Then at last he passed the state bar examination, resigned from the department and set up his own law office.

date Torok Gives e His Check Back

The Associated Press

..., O., May 2 — ... Jr. of Youngstown, ... for the Democratic ... governor, disclosed yesterday he had returned a $25 campaign contribution from Albert E. Payne of Springfield, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

"I wish to thank A. E. Payne for his kind gesture," Torok stated, "but I do not desire the type of publicity that Mr. Payne has used in his campaign."

Payne commented:

"I'm sorry Mr. Torok took that attitude. My contribution was made in the spirit of true American.

"It was a tribute to the legal profession and others who have in years past maintained that under the free primary system, any mother's son could file for the highest office in the state, that anyone could be anything if he had the ability."

The check, dated April 25, 1946, was made to "Joseph Torock—Grocery Clerk—Candidate for Governor of Ohio."

Social Affairs

A DINNER DANCE last evening at Hotel Harding closed the 1945-46 season for members of the Wednesday Night Dance club. The host committee chose spring motifs to carry out a decorative theme and tables were colorful with miniature Maypoles. During the evening officers for the coming season were elected. They are Karl P. Holly, president, A. F. Burick, vice president and Paul Hutt, treasurer. Seventy-five couples danced to music by Ned Blocker and his orchestra from Mansfield.

Serving as co-chairmen for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Ray R. King and Mr. and Mrs. Karl P. Holly, and assisting hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Westland, Mr. and Mrs. John Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Courtright, Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Gunder, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Siefert, Mr. and Mrs. Rex G. Kilbourn, Mr. and Mrs. Claire T. Crenshaw, Mr. and Mrs A. F. Burick, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Planck, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Woods, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Steffen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. LaMarche, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Alber, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Oborn, Mr. and Mrs. Alwyn H. Crane, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Howser and Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Greer.

ANNOUNCEMENT is being made of the marriage of Mrs. Daisy E. Kreis and Elmer J. Salter, which took place Tuesday, April 23. The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. H. M. McAdow, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, at the parsonage at 249 Blaine avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Dice Shroll were the attendants.

Mrs Kreis chose for the ceremony a navy blue suit with matching accessories, and wore a corsage of red roses and sweet peas. They are at home at 532 Forest street. Mrs. Salter, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs James Osborne of Waldo, is manager of Samilson's dress shop and Mr. Salter is the local agent of Railway Express Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lovett of east of LaRue entertained at the Manor House Monday evening in honor of the senior members of the music ensemble of the New Bloomington school and Miss Edith Keller, state music supervisor. Red and white, the senior class colors, predominated in the table appointments and the rooms were decorated with tulips and garden flowers. A buffet lunch was served.

Music during the evening was furnished by Miss Helen Louise Sullivan and Mrs. Jeanne Margar, accordionists of Richwood. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Walter Rothfuss and Mrs. Gomer Johnson. Guests aside from the music group and Miss Keller were County Superintendent and Mrs D. T. Mills of Marion, Mrs Emmett Trout and Mrs. Nate Shelton of Claridon, Miss Doris Oesterle, Miss Jeanne Hines, Miss Olga Smith and Mrs. William Bushman of the school faculty, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rothfuss and daughter, Ruthanna, Mr. and Mrs. Gomer Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gracely, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Schaber and son, Wayne, Mr. and Mrs Guy Smith, members of the board of education and wives, and Mrs Lester Moury, Mr. and Mrs. John Hickman, Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Nutter, William Bushman, Mrs. Paul Schaber, Phyllis Purnis and Suzanna Rose Lovett. Earlier in the evening the senior girls entertained with a dinner at Hotel Harding for Miss Keller. The party followed the annual Marion county music festival.

Husbands and friends of members of Beta chapter, Gradale sorority joined them for an 'old clothes' party and hayride to Wickersham's farm Saturday evening. A highlight of the evening was a wiener roast. Arrangements were in charge of a committee composed of Miss Maxine Schlagenhauf, Mrs. Mary Rice, Mrs. Eunice Kellogg, Mrs. Florence Weston and Miss Patricia Lawler.

Members of Alpha and Beta chapters, Gradale sorority, attended a spring conference of the sorority held at the Seneca Hotel in Columbus, Sunday. Miss Catherine Watson of Alpha chapter is quaestor of the state organization. Taking part in the program discussions were Miss June Wise, Miss Virginia Mathiot, Patricia Lawler and Martha Hord. Attending were Miss Watson, Miss Wise, Eileen Solomon, Miss Hord, Miss Dorothy Castner and Mrs. H. E. Webster, mentor of Alpha chapter and Miss Lawler and Miss Mathiot of Beta chapter.

The Monte Carlo Pinochle club met at the home of Mrs. Lottie Hull on North Prospect street Tuesday evening. Prizes went to Mrs. Myrtabelle Morris, Mrs Pearl Buckingham, Mrs. Vera Adams and Mrs. Bess Peoples. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Rosemary Lawson on East Center street.

Mrs Virgil Booth of 195 Short street was hostess for a meeting of the Tom Breneman club Tuesday afternoon. Luncheon was followed by a social hour and contests. Mrs. Nellie Sharp, chaplain, conducted the devotions. Contest awards were won by Mrs. Omar Smith and Mrs. Sharp.

The Round Table club season was closed yesterday afternoon when a picnic and meeting were held at the home of Miss Emma O'Brien of 485 East Church street. A donation of $5 was voted to the cancer fund. Guests were Mrs. Royce Crow Harrah of Toledo and Mrs Lottie Gomersall of Bowling Green.

OHIOAN 106 IS AMBITIOUS

By The Associated Press

CHILLICOTHE, O., May 2—William Carter celebrated his 106th birthday yesterday, and remarked: "I wish I could live to be the last man on earth, just to see how things turn out." A former slave, he was born near White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Couple Exchange Marriage Vows in Church Here

MISS ELINOR HIRNEISE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs William H. Hirneise of 191 East George street, was united in marriage Saturday, April 27, with John Deffenbaugh, son of Mrs. William Deffenbaugh of Delphos, O. The ceremony was read at 9 o'clock in the morning in the St. Mary Catholic church by Rev. William J. Spickerman.

The bride was attired in a gown of brocaded white satin accented with a sweetheart neckline and a full skirt which extended into a court train. The long tight sleeves ended in points at the hands. Her finger tip veil was fastened to a Juliet cap and she carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses with pink ribbon streamers. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Clara Hirneise. She wore a dress of pink net over pink satin with short puff sleeves and a fitted bodice. Her headdress of light blue net was fastened with pink sweet peas. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and yellow iris with pink ribbon streamers.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Robert Deffenbaugh.

Mrs Hirneise chose for her daughter's wedding a black dress with white lace trimming, and Mrs Deffenbaugh wore a rose colored dress trimmed with white lace. Both wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was served to 32 guests at Detrick's Inn. The table, centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a bride and bridegroom in a silver bell, was lighted with pink and blue candles in crystal tapers. When the couple left on a wedding trip to Chicago, the new Mrs. Deffenbaugh was attired in a three-piece grey wool pin stripe suit with which she wore red and black accessories. Upon their return they will reside in Marion.

Mrs. Deffenbaugh graduated from St Rose school at Lima and was employed at the Westinghouse Corp in Lima. A graduate of Jefferson High school in Delphos, Mr Deffenbaugh recently was discharged after three years Army service. He is now employed by the Erie Railroad here.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's mother, a sister, Dorothy Deffenbaugh, two brothers, Robert and Thomas Deffenbaugh, all of Delphos, Mr. and Mrs Richard Hirneise of Lima, O., Mr. and Mrs William Deffenbaugh of St. Mary's, O., Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Showalter of Van Wert, Mr and Mrs James Deffenbaugh of Delphos, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Say of Dayton, Mrs. Eugene Shenk of New York City, and Mr and Mrs Joseph Smith of Huntington, Ind

Personal Mention

Mr and Mrs. Edward E. Glosser and son, Albert of 477 Summit street have returned to their home after spending four months in St. Petersburg, Fla. Before going to Florida they visited one month in Dallas, Tex., with their son, Estabrook Glosser, and his family.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kneisley and daughter, Jean Alice, of 336 South High street, left Monday for a two weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs David Fritz and family of Seattle, Wash, former residents of Marion.

MOTHER

was named Ohio mother and Mrs. Harold H. Burton, wife of the supreme court judge, was chosen Washington (D. C.) mother.

Mrs. Clement, whose children include the president of Atlanta university, Atlanta, Ga; a professor of physics, a professor of English and an army chaplain, is former national president of the Women's Society of the African Methodist church.

Mrs Clement's election was announced by Mrs. Harper Sibley of Rochester, N. Y., American mother of 1945.

She was nominated by Mrs. Ruth M. Worrel of New York City, executive secretary of the United Council of Churchwomen.

The committee originally had planned to announce its selection last Monday.

Dr. Charles Vickery, president of the foundation, said the delay was due, not to disagreement, but because of insufficient time to consider all candidates.

Telephoning Louisville to notify Mrs. Clement of her selection, Mrs Sibley said she was told by a daughter that "mother is speaking on a radio program right now." Her subject was 'The Family.'

Tribute to Great Spirit

Mrs David De Sola Pool, chairman of the mothers' committee, said:

"In selecting Mrs. Clement as the American mother for 1946, the committee gives recognition not only to the great personal qualities of Mrs. Clement as a mother of children who are devotedly serving their country and their people; as a partner in her husband's ministry in his lifetime; as a social and community worker in her own right; but it gives recognition also and pays tribute to the great spirit of America.

"Our republic has struggled through many phases of national development to achieve the freedom, equality and brotherhood which must remain our goal as they are our slogans."

Mrs. Clement is the widow of a former bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church in Louisville.

Friend Of Lincoln

"My grandfather was an intimate friend of Lincoln and started the first Republican newspaper in Philadelphia to support Mr. Lincoln for president," Mrs. Sibley said.

Mrs. Clement's grandfather was a slave.

"My sons, but none of my daughters, went to college. All Mrs. Clement's seven children have college degrees, some of them advanced degrees.

"Our warm congratulations go to Mrs. Clement with our hopes and prayers that she, together with the other mothers of America, will point the way to the new world that is to be—the kingdom of God on earth."

One of the committee members who voted for Mrs. Clement was Miss Mary E. Hughes, New York City, a native of Louisville, Ky., and a member of the Society of Kentucky Women.

A Rebel Until Now

"I never dreamed I would ever in my life vote for a Negro," Miss Hughes said. "But when I saw her record I couldn't be fair and serve on the committee without recognizing it.

"I'm a rebel of rebels — or I thought I was until this afternoon."

The committee provided this data on the American mother of 1946:

A native of Providence, R. I., Mrs. Clement is a graduate of Livingstone College, Salisbury, N. C. She is a charter member of the Southern Commission on Inter-Racial Co-Operation, secretary (Negro division) of the Kentucky Division of the American Field Army Cancer Society and a statistician of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

Her children, all graduates of Livingstone, are: Mrs. Abbie Jackson, executive secretary of the Women's Home and Foreign Mission Society, A.M.Z. Zion church, Rufus E. Clement, president of Atlanta university; Frederick A Clement, professor of physics at West Virginia State college; Ruth G. Bond, wife of the director of the Inter-American Education Foundation in Haiti; George W. Clement, a Red Cross recreation director in Italy; Maj. James A. Clement, army chaplain on leave from Hood Theological Seminary, and Emma C. Walker, Tuskegee, Ala., institute English professor.

Church Is Scene for Wedding of LaRue Couple

Special to The Star

LARUE—The Methodist church of LaRue was the scene of the wedding of Miss Yolah M. Trapp, daughter of Mrs. Henry G. Trapp of LaRue, and Phillips G. Hastings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Hastings of LaRue, Saturday evening, April 20.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Don Cryer of Westerville, assisted by Rev. Clarke Davis, before an altar decorated with white snapdragons and palms and lighted by tall seven branch candelabra.

Miss Lena Dale Mulvaine, organist, played a program of wedding music. Mrs. Orlo Trapp sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Carlton Trapp, her sister.

Miss Mulvaine and Mrs. Trapp played the wedding march in duet as Orlo Trapp escorted the bride, his sister, to the altar and gave her in marriage. Miss Louise Trapp of Columbus served as maid of honor and Mrs. Fay D. Bevis of Richwood and Mrs. Lester Fields of Mesa, Ariz., were attendants. Mrs. Fields was unable to attend. Lana Sue Bevis and Mary Elizabeth Hastings, nieces of the bride and bridegroom, respectively, were flower girls while Ortho Trapp, nephew of the bride, served as ringbearer.

Erwin Hastings of Dayton served his brother as best man and ushers were Calvin Topliff of LaRue, Fay D. Bevis of Richwood and Carlton Trapp of Westerville.

Preceding the ceremony the tapers were lighted by Mrs. Lorraine Rengert of Perrysville, Miss Bernice Dunson of Dayton and Miss Maralyn Herd of Wapakoneta.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned in a long fitted waist with a round net yoke and a full gathered skirt which ended in a short circular train. Long fitted sleeves tapered to a point over her wrists and her finger tip veil was held in place by clusters of mock-orange blossoms. Her jewelry was a gold heart shaped locket, a gift of the groom and her mother's wedding band which she wore on her right hand as family tradition. She carried a white Bible topped with a single purple throated orchid.

Miss Louise Trapp wore a dress of Hawthorne pink with matching shoulder-length veil and gloves of poudre blue while Mrs Bevis wore an aqua dress and veil with gloves of pink. Both carried white Bibles with streamers. The flower girls wore blue taffeta dresses, fashioned alike, trimmed with white baby lace, and carried small baskets tied with satin and net ribbons of violets.

The bride's mother wore a jonquil yellow printed jersey dress with lime green and town brown accessories. The groom's mother wore a rose dress with white and black accessories. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

A reception was held at the bride's home with immediate families and wedding party present. The bride chose for her going away outfit a grey suit with white and black patent accessories topped with a dusty pink shortie coat upon which she placed her orchid.

Mrs. Hastings is a graduate of the Marion Business college and before her marriage resided in Westerville. She was employed by the Jeffrey Manufacturing Co in Columbus. Mr. Hastings was recently discharged as coxswain from the Navy after serving two and a half years in the Aleutians aboard a minesweeper. Both were members of the class of 1943 at LaRue High school.

Damage Suit Goes to Jury Here Today

The judgment suit of Mrs. Carrie Favorite of Prospect against Dr. S. W. Mattox of Marion, now in its third day in common pleas court, went to the jury at 11 a. m. today. This morning's session included arguments by attorneys for both the plaintiff and defendant and Judge Paul D. Smith's charge to the jury.

Testimony in the $25,279 judgment suit was completed yesterday. Mrs. Favorite is charging Dr. Mattox with negligence in treating her for a left arm fracture. Moore and Myers are her attorneys and Frank Wiedemann is attorney for Dr. Mattox.

Teen-Age Scientist Hopes To Become Brain Surgeon

MARILYN ROHRER at work in her basement laboratory.

By The Associated Press

ELIZABETHTOWN, Pa.— Worms and frogs hold more interest for 17-year-old Marilyn Rohrer than the latest fashions of the bobby sox brigade.

This high school senior, winner of a $2,400 college scholarship and top national recognition in the fifth annual Science Talent Search, hopes to become a brain surgeon.

For more than a year, Marilyn has been collecting and preserving brains of more than 30 kinds of animals, fish, birds and even a human being, the latter obtained from a hospital.

She works in her own laboratory in the basement of her home.

Marilyn stands at the head of her class at Elizabethtown High school and had parts in the junior and senior plays of the last two years. She plays a trumpet in the school orchestra and is piano accompanist for the school glee club.

Join the Army And See Your Parents

By The Associated Press

HAVERHILL, Mass.—Panagiotis Nibi, 19, has enlisted in the Army and asked for a European assignment—in the hope he'll be reunited with his parents.

Nibi returned to the United States last December after living in Bucharest, Romania, since 1934. Letters to his parents in Bucharest have been returned unopened.

Nibi hopes through the Army to find them.

TREASURY BOOST

By The Associated Press

LAS CRUCES, N. M.—Ben N. Ames received a letter from the collector of internal revenue for payment of one cent due on his income tax.

Ames said his salary deductions totaled $182.99 and his tax was estimated at $183.

The penny is enroute to the collector—in an envelope bearing a three-cent stamp.

Programs on the Air

For the first time since it went on the air in August, 1941, "The Great Gildersleeve" program will take a full 13-week vacation this summer instead of the customary eight weeks. "Gildersleeve" begins its hiatus following the broadcast of June 9, and will return to the NBC airlanes Sept. 15.

The Danny Kaye show, widely hailed when it first appeared on the CBS Saturday list last fall, later shifting to Fridays, is to close with the May 31 broadcast. This coincides with the end of this third 13-week period.

Announcement from Hollywood said Kaye's "release from his program" carried the stipulations that he could not accept "any sponsor for one year" and could do only 10 guest boradcasts within that time. The present sponsor would have first call on four of them at the quoted price of $5,000 each. Kaye expects to devote most of his time to movies and a projected Broadway show.

BRITISH LOAN VOTE DELAY IS FORECAST

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 2—The administration came reluctantly to the conclusion it probably could not force a senate showdown this week on the $3,750,000,000 British loan.

Moreover it faced the possibility of a long delay—while the senate considers draft and OPA extension legislation—if it fails to wangle a decision early next week.

The amendment list continued to grow. Senator Aiken (R-Vt), who is leaning toward support of the loan, announced he would offer a proposal under which the British would be required to report progress in lifting international trade barriers after they had drawn $1,000,000,000.

The Aiken amendment would prevent payment of any additional funds until this report had been made.

Sen. Wherry (D-Neb) predicted the first test vote would come on a parliamentary point to be raised by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo). Johnson said he would contend "when the time is ripe" that the loan authorization bill was a revenue-raising measure which, under the constitution, must be acted upon by the house before the senate considers it.

BUSINESS CLUB ELECTS

Miss Mary K. Miley was elected president of the Business Women's club at a luncheon meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday. Miss LeVern Lash was elected vice president. Miss Lois Jean Murray, secretary; Mrs. Fay Vestal, treasurer; Miss Lydia Ebel, chaplain, and Miss Martha Hord, reporter. Miss Margaret Huffman, Mrs. Lucille Cunningham and Mrs. Maxine Stinchcomb were the nominating committee, and Misses Wanda Geddis and Helen Beck acted as tellers. Miss Ebel conducted a short period of devotions. It was announced that a special dinner meeting with members of the Business and Professional Women's club of Toledo as guests, will be held at the Y Sunday at 1 p. m.

FIGHT LOOMS OVER FOREIGN NEWS BILL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 2—Ten amendments aimed directly at the state department's $10,000,000 cultural relations program piled up today on Speaker Rayburn's desk as the house squared away for its first post-recess fight.

Written by Rep. Robert Jones (R-Ohio), they would wipe out all funds recommended for the program by the appropriations committee.

Scattered over ten separate items, the $10,000,000 is included in a $358,825,758 bill to finance the state, commerce and justice departments for the fiscal year starting July 1. The house started debate on it before the Easter recess but postponed a decision because of the controversy over the cultural relations program.

Jones and a coalition of Democrats and Republicans backing him in his drive to halt the program have contended it would do more harm than good in the European nations where it would operate.

Another Ohioan, Rep. Clarence Brown, Republican, told the house rules committee recently the program might endanger freedom of the press by giving the state department absolute control of United States news disseminated abroad.

The state department's position is that the program is essential for a better understanding among the peoples of the world and that it will not jeopardize the liberty of the press but will serve to supplement news sent abroad by United States news agencies.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Willie Lives in an "Almost" Home

Willie Wells is one of many G.I.'s stationed overseas to keep the Peace. Not to forget them, let me describe a snapshot that he sent.

It's the inside of a house where Willie's quartered . . . except the boys have fixed it up as much as possible to look like a typical American home. They've hung up pictures of their families, cultivated a stray puppy for a house pet.

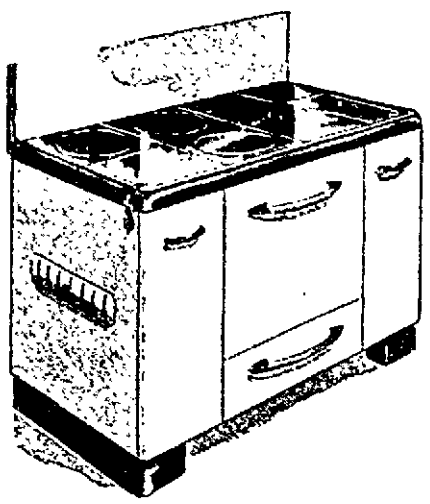

And the snapshot shows Willie and his buddies sitting by their hearth, drinking friendly American beer and reading the hometown paper. "Almost like being back in Clover Corners," says the caption.

From where I sit, that "almost" packs a lot of meaning. Thousands of our boys are still overseas, trying to make their quarters homelike, even to the pet dog and the friendly glass of beer. Let's not forget to write them often—remind them that home is waiting—and it's not an "almost" home either.

Ohio Doctor at 83, With 2,232 Babies, Praises Scientists

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 2—At 83, Dr. David R. Williams of Girard, O., has delivered 2,232 babies in 55 years of general practice. But he still wants to know the latest science is doing to help the stork.

Attending a three-day seminar on obstetrics and pediatrics at Western Reserve university, he said yesterday:

"Babies come into the world the same way they always did, but these scientists are always finding out new things. Things good for us all to know.

"Down in Youngstown we've had a refresher (course) every year for 18 years and I haven't missed a one of 'em'," he continued. "If there's one in Cleveland next year I'll be back."

Dr. Williams paid a tribute to medical research.

"I can tell you that if I had known 55 years ago what I know today, I'd live to be 125. And I'd have all my teeth besides," he said.

"I would eat the exact amount of calories that I needed—no more, no less—and I'd obey all the good health rules."

MOWERS, SPRINGS GO UP

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 2—Retail prices for hand lawn mowers are going up 9 to 10 per cent. Announcing this today, OPA said the reason is that manufacturers' price ceilings are being increased by the same amount to offset higher wage and material costs. The agency also announced that retail price ceilings for wire-tied innerspring mattresses will be increased two per cent, effective May 6.

Embarrassed OPA Opens Probe To See If Suit Costs Are Up

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 2—OPA, embarrassed and surprised at industry reports that prices for men's suits are rising, set out today to learn whether it's true.

The agency launched an investigation of prices after removing a restriction which clothing producers claim was blocking delivery to retail stores of from 75 to 80 per cent of suits being made.

"We are astounded," OPA said in a statement last night, "by trade reports that the new pricing order is causing increases of from 5 to 15 per cent in prices of men's suits."

Had Seen No Rise

This was a reference to a price adjustment OPA made in March. At that time OPA said there would be no general increase in men's suit prices. The agency expected higher prices for some manufacturers, but it said these would be offset by reductions for others.

Thus far there have been few if any reductions, but plenty of increases, according to OPA's industry reports.

It was on these increases suit manufacturers based their demands for a modification of OPA's controversial maximum average price order. They claimed that as it stood the industry would have to curtail suit deliveries sharply.

To prevent this OPA is giving manufacturers another 30 days to meet requirements of the average price order. Previously the deadline had been yesterday.

The extension means that by May 30 manufacturers must balance their production of high-priced suits with the same proportion of low-priced garments they turned out during a base period, usually 1943.

May Block Shipments

Under the present situation, failure to do this again would block shipments after a month's time. Any non-complying manufacturer who ships anyway is liable to fine.

OPA said the purpose of its price study was to find out whether manufacturers actually were entitled to a higher average maximum price as the result of the match adjustment of ceilings on individual garments.

Meanwhile shipments are on an unrestricted basis.

George W. Hoffman, 65, Is Stricken at Galion

Special to The Star

GALION, May 2—George W. Hoffman, 65, of 163 Clay street, died in an ambulance on the way to City hospital about 10 a. m. Wednesday. He was stricken while walking along the railroad track near the South Boston street crossing, along the switching track. A gesture of his hand stopped a passing motorist who called an ambulance. Mr. Hoffman was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital, and cause of death was pronounced a heart attack.

He was born Sept. 27, 1880, in Ross county. Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Laura Smith of Napoleon, Mrs. John Bay of Galion and Mrs. Emily Flynn Ensley of Alabama, and two brothers, William of Marion and Lewis of Galion. Funeral services will be Friday at 12:30 p. m. in the Snyder funeral home by Rev. C. V. Roop, pastor of the United Brethren church. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

Harold A. Morris on Police Force

Appointment of Harold A. Morris of 768 Congress street to the city police force was announced Wednesday by the safety-service director. Morris reported for duty Wednesday.

Morris, 36, has been employed at Pollak Steel Co. since 1927. He was born in Union county. He is married.

Motorist Fined $100, Loses Driving Rights

Arrested by the highway patrol on route 23 south of Marion Wednesday at 4:44 p. m., George W. Lindquist, 40, of Columbus pleaded guilty today in municipal court to charges of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $100 and costs and his driving rights were suspended for three years.

Three Motorists Fined on Speeding Charges

Three motorists were fined $15 each in municipal court today when they pleaded guilty to charges of speeding. They were arrested Thursday.

They are Carl E. Reinke, 31, of 443 Davids street; Raymond Dilsaver, 23, of LaRue, and Noel H. Corwin, 18, of 208 Blaine avenue. Reinke was arrested on Delaware avenue at 6:27 a. m., Dilsaver on West Center street at 1:25 a. m., and Corwin on West Center at 12:56 a. m.

BABY'S MITTENS

The best method of making sure that baby doesn't lose his mittens is still the old-fashioned one of sewing tapes onto them. The tapes can be attached to each sleeve, or they can attach the two mittens to each other and be put around the outer collar of baby's snowsuit.

HOLY LAND

immigration of 100,000 European Jews outlined a long range policy which would place the Holy Land under a United Nations trusteeship of undetermined duration.

The committee said it assumed the British government "in the near future" would prepare a draft trusteeship agreement for eventual submission to the United Nations, including terms for its administration.

Although there is a possibility the Palestine report may hasten action, the UN had not planned to discuss creation of a trusteeship council for the over-all supervision of international territories until the general assembly's meeting in September.

The issue could, however, be raised before the UN security council with the contention that the situation constitutes a threat to international security.

But what action the council could or might take is uncertain, for thus far it has no military forces to back up its decisions. Until UN takes some action on trusteeships, Britain presumably will retain the mandate over Palestine she inherited from the League of Nations in 1922.

FOOD

make food purchases for foreign governments after July 1 because of the current crisis. These are for food-short nations who are ineligible for UNRRA aid and able to repay this country for the supplies.

5. The way was cleared for the opening May 12 of a nation-wide emergency food collection campaign which will solicit contributions of canned foods and cash for famine relief. Secretary of Commerce Wallace, national chairman for this drive, and UNRRA Director General La Guardia ironed out their differences over how it should operate.

The appeal for community famine emergency campaigns went out to the mayors in letters from Chairman Chester Davis, who suggested the local committees be headed by civic leaders who will give "real" time and energy to the work.

Wide Representation

Stressing the urgency of the situation, Davis recommended the committees include representatives of civic and religious organizations, labor, hotels, restaurants, retailers, veterans, schools, newspapers, broadcasters, advertisers and other appropriate groups.

In its report on the butter situation, the agriculture department said the supply available last month through established channels reached "the most acutely short stage thus far" recorded.

Receipts in the four larger butter markets—Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Boston — were reported the lightest for any month in more than 27 years.

upon the regular avenues of purchase would be the first to starve because everything then would go black market despite any regulations OPA put in."

Comes At Hearing

Pickell, executive secretary of the livestock association, made his argument in a statement prepared for the senate banking committee's hearings on legislation to extend price controls a year beyond June 30.

Meanwhile, a group of consumer organizations laid plans for a day long series of Capitol Hill demonstrations today to urge senators to vote for an OPA minus the trimming - down amendments which the house voted.

The organizations are banded into the "All States Committee of The National Emergency Committee for Price Control."

In the banking committee hearing, Pickell was called after meat industry spokesmen went on record urging that price controls on livestock and meats be lifted at once.

Says It Is Obvious

Senator Millikin (R-Colo) observed to a newsman "it is perfectly obvious from the testimony" that meat controls will have to be abandoned unless present shortages in legitimate channels are corrected.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson voiced a similar opinion in informing the committee yesterday that meat control should be abandoned in 90 days if it proved impossible to get "something like normal" volume of cattle going to regular packers.

Later Anderson told a news conference any such removal of controls should be experimental with the government retaining power to reimpose them.

Consumption of diesel oil in the United States has trebled since 1941.

QUONSET HUTS OKAY FOR USE, STATE SAYS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 1—Quonset huts, home to many a GI during the past five years, were approved by the state today for use as factories, workshops, and storage and mercantile buildings, and barring local restrictions, may be used for one and two-family homes.

The state board of building standards, acting on a petition presented by the Great Lakes Steel Corp. of Detroit, ruled that they complied with the Ohio building code for commercial purposes.

Charles Pettibone, chief of the state division of factory and building inspection, said that since the state had no jurisdiction over one and two-family units, persons hoping to use them for homes, emergency or otherwise, need only consult their city officials to make sure that the structures meet local fire, health and zoning ordinances.

Pettibone said plans for building quonset huts still must be cleared with the Civilian Production Administration under the recent federal order restricting building to give veterans' housing a start, and also plans and specifications must be approved by the division.

IS THERE A SOUL IN MARION WHO WON'T BE PROUD TO HAVE A PART IN MAKING A BUILDING LIKE THIS POSSIBLE?

Here It Is At Last, Let's Forget Everything But How Much A Building Like This Will Do For Marion and It's Youngsters!

We'll Have All Of These In This Fine Building

1. A NEW HARDING SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL.
2. A SOUTHEAST SIDE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL.
3. A LARGE CIVIC AUDITORIUM TO SEAT 2,000.
4. A MODERN GYMNASIUM TO SEAT 4,000.
5. A CLEAN, APPETIZING CAFETERIA.

The athletic field site is ideal for this location due to its safety, quietness and cleanliness—also it offers ample parking space for all civic and athletic events—but even if some could object to the site—WHERE IS THERE ANOTHER PLACE OF 16 ACRES AVAILABLE IN MARION? This property was bought and paid for in 1928 and it was the only desirable place then.

Picture in your mind a building like this, out of the center of town — clean, quiet, away from traffic and still blocks closer to every child in Marion than the high schools in most other cities. Here is a school to thrill about.

Picture thousands of Marion citizens being able to enjoy the dozens of civic events that will be possible — symphonies, plays, lectures, conventions, etc., which Marion has been denied because we have no civic auditorium. Think of the ample parking space for all who wish to attend. Picture the athletic events we may hold in the winter time in a gorgeous big gym. District tournaments, inter-scholastic contests, with space for 4000 rooters and ample parking space. Such places are good for cities and their citizens.

This marvelous improvement may be had for your "VOTE" and with no increase in our average tax rate over the past 10 years.

NEW JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING:

The new junior-senior high school building will be located on the athletic field site. Junior and Senior divisions of the school will be housed in separate parts of the building. However, common use will be made of many facilities, such as: auditorium, gymnasium, and cafeteria, thereby reducing the cost of such services materially.

The advantages to the youth of Marion that would come as the result of having a modern building of this type, properly equipped, cannot be over estimated. Everyone recognizes that good teaching is of first importance. However, good teachers get better results by having a proper place in which to teach.

This building will be of sufficient size to house the senior high school pupils of the city and the junior high school pupils of this area. A modern cafeteria to seat 500 at one time will answer the needs of the school. Provision will be made for sufficient class rooms and laboratories of the size and type needed to meet the requirements of the several departments in the school. Plans call for an auditorium with a capacity of 2000. It will be available for general community use as well as for school purposes. The benefit to the city from such an auditorium will be very great. Here will be presented not only the dramatic and musical events of our own city, but also guest artists.

The need for a gymnasium of an adequate size both for performers and the audience is generally recognized. Marion has long suffered for the lack of one. Therefore, the gymnasium is being planned to accommodate up to around 4000. Adequate shower and dressing room facilities will be included for physical education purposes. There will be plenty of parking space for the spectators.

The gymnasium and auditorium will help to attract many conventions and tournaments to Marion. The benefit of such groups visiting our city would be valuable from many angles.

Many have not realized the great advantage of having the High School on the site of the athletic field. With this space available the entire student body can participate in a beneficial, health-building, out-of-doors, athletic program. This is not possible on the present site of Harding High. Practice for the athletic teams could be started immediately after the close of school without the waste of time now involved going to and from the Harding Stadium. Several new competitive sports could be taken up. All in all, the caliber of Harding High athletics as well as the general health of the whole student body would be improved by this efficient arrangement.

YES, FOLKS THIS IS THE CAPSTONE OF A SPLENDID SCHOOL AND CIVIC PROGRAM FOR MARION

The More You Think Of It, From All Angles, The More You'll Like It!

Sycamore's Oldest Resident Keeps Up with Times at 99

(Special to The Star)

SYCAMORE, O.—Sycamore's grand old lady, Mrs. Margaret Walton has started on her 100th year, with every sign pointing to another birthday on April 25, 1947.

The community's oldest resident keeps up with present day affairs with relish, and really enjoys talking of years more than of her past. Incidentally, her past has been eventful.

Her health is good and her mind and memory very alert.

Her 99th birthday was observed Sunday with a family dinner at her home.

Born before the Mexican war, she was in her teens during the Civil war, but has seen five wars but had no near relatives in any of them until World war II with two grandsons and a granddaughter in service. Her granddaughter was in Red Cross work.

Radio Is Topic

Having seen nearly 100 years of change she thinks that the radio is most wonderful of all inventions for instant at all. Her sight and hearing both being somewhat impaired she enjoys nearly every day to her favorite programs.

Being inclined to reminisce a bit she said she was born Margaret Wilson on a farm near Flatrock and later married William Walton. While their oldest child was a baby they decided to cast their lot with the pioneers west of the Mississippi and so went in a covered wagon to Iowa where they stayed for a time until the grass of Nebraska looked greener and they journeyed again in their wagon to Fillmore county, Nebraska. In a sort of the grasscovered prairie of 1874 upon Nebraska and her husband said that was no place for him so they returned to Ohio.

Mother of Seven

She has lived in and near Sycamore since Mr. Walton died in 1892. She is the mother of seven children, four living. They are Arthur of Akron, Mrs. Pearl Oxender of Nora, Mrs. Iva Vollmer of Fostoria and Richard of Sycamore. Three daughters are dead.

Mrs. Walton had three sisters, two of whom died young. Her last sister, Mrs. Mary Davidson, died in Iowa last November at the age of 94.

She came as a maternal ancestor Charles Clendenen, the noted Indian fighter, after whom the city of Charleston, W. Va., is named. As he told the story, Clendenen became an Indian captive because of an incident of his loyalty. A group of pioneers was having a deer barbecue. When a band of Indians came to the scene they also were invited out after eating, they killed all the white men and children and took the women prisoners. The latter hated them and feared death to any Indian he had a chance to kill.

Today Is Different

When asked what she thought of present day conditions she just threw up her hands and said, "There are so many things I can't get used to. She objects to the mannish cut women and to women smoking.

She has a cozy little home which is shared by her housekeeper, Miss Helen Sharp.

On Sunday her children and grandchildren gathered at her home to celebrate although her birthday was April 25. Mrs. Walton received many gifts and best wishes for her 100th birthday next year.

Ohioan Given Life in Slaying by Auto

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 2—J. B. Dawson, father of nine children, was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday after pleading guilty to second degree murder in the auto-slaying of Pvt. Glasgow, 45, here last March 22.

Dawson was indicted by the Mahoning county grand jury on a charge of first degree murder and was charged with "running down" Glasgow with his automobile. Prosecutor William Amorose recommended to common pleas court that the charge be reduced and told judge Glasgow's death followed a scuffle during which the victim struck the defendant.

Surplus War Goods Goes to Galion and Delaware

Galion and Delaware interests were among purchasers of surplus war materials from the Cleveland office of the War Assets Administration, a report from that organization covering the period April 1 to April 14 reveals. Sales by the WAA from March 25 to April 15 brought $1,456,446, it was reported.

The report shows the following purchases: Norris Electric Mfg. Co. of Galion—steel sheets, $2,268.87; Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware—enamel, $121.50; Perfection Steel Body Co. of Galion—steel sheets, $1,816.25; Gledhill Road Machinery Co. of Galion—type head, $59.85, and Delaware Motive Parts of Delaware—drill press, $75.

Justice Douglas Due To Speak at Ohio U.

ATHENS, O., May 2—Justice William O. Douglas of the U. S. supreme court will give the commencement address at Ohio university's graduation exercises on Sunday, June 8, President John C. Baker announced today.

An associate justice on the supreme court bench for the past seven years, Justice Douglas will speak to a graduating class of approximately 220 seniors and 10 graduate students seeking master's degrees.

Bishop Seth Ziegler E. Garth of the Wisconsin area of the Methodist church will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. He formerly was pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, Youngstown.

Famed Nazi Town Plans Democracy School

By HAL BOYLE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

COBURG, GERMANY — This well-spring of Nazism wants to redeem its good name of organizing an "international academy for agreement among nations" where students from all over the world can study democracy.

It is a strange thing—this mass repentance by a city for past nationalist-socialistic sins. It is believable only in Germany.

Hal Boyle

Coburg for centuries was the ducal seat of the Saxe-Coburg House rulers, a prolific royal family which produced kings for several European countries. Under Adolf Hitler it was awarded the Coburg medal for being one of the first cities to embrace Nazism.

Now the colorful Bavarian "postcard town," where Martin Luther once preached, wants to take the lead in switching the German nation over to its third ideology in 30 years—this time democracy, Monarchy and Nazism are no longer respectable here.

The idea of making Coburg an international center for the study of democratic culture was conceived by Oberburgermeister Meyer and a number of business and professional leaders.

Want To Prove It

"We want to prove to the world that in Coburg there are many democrats who can be good Germans and still work for the international understanding," said Meyer, a slender serious man of middle years, and we have to establish a formula to further understanding among students from all countries."

The academy will specialize in the study of government and the history of all democracies but it will offer courses in comparative religion, languages, social and educational science. A fine arts division will teach the contributions of each nation to world culture in music, painting, architecture and sculpturing.

"The school will be open to all," said Meyer, "a people's academy for the masses as well as advanced students."

The project is no paper enterprise. The academy is ready to open on a limited scale as soon as American permission is forthcoming.

The academy will be housed in the old ducal palace where Queen Victoria of England used to stay on summer visits with her consort Prince Albert, a native of Coburg.

Nazi Ideas Persist

American soldiers stationed here say Nazi thoughts persist among youthful sections of the populace. There are also many conservative monarchial families who still live as they did in the days of the Kaisers. Such groups give only grudging lip service to the idea of a world academy in the Ehrenburg palace where dukes and princes once entertained.

Oberburgermeister Meyer is determined to expose Coburg's diehards to democracy.

"I am a stubborn man," he said. "I am going through with this academy project. And it's going to be put in the palace whatever some of the old people of this town say."

Meyer even hopes they will come and take a few lessons.

PLAYING ALONE

If a child derives pleasure from being by himself and playing with his toys alone frequently, mothers should not discourage this practice. It helps the child to become a little bit more self-sufficient and gives busy mothers a chance to catch up on work.

HANDSOME SLEEPERS

Gaily figured pajamas for youngsters have their serious side too. For easier toilet routine, the back should be constructed with a drop seat. Easy to manage snappers for fasteners, teach the child self reliance and eliminate missing buttons.

Ohio Double Bride Free in Bigamy Case

By The Associated Press

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., May 2 — Acquitted of bigamy, Mrs. Daisy Williams Hardy Narney, attractive 22-year-old blond of nearby Dennison, today could plan a way out of her predicament of having two husbands.

She was freed of the bigamy charge by a jury of eight women and four men in the Tuscarawas county common pleas court yesterday.

Mrs. Narney told the jury she believed her first husband, Elmer Hardy of Cambridge, had been killed in action while serving with the armed forces overseas. She was so informed by Hardy's mother, now dead, she testified. She married Hardy in 1932.

She married James F. Narney, 37, of Uhrichsville, last September. Then Hardy appeared in Cambridge, discharged from the Army. Narney said he had not lived with his wife since her first husband's return.

Learning of his wife's second marriage, Hardy re-enlisted, although he was complaining [illegible] ness in the bigamy charge, [illegible] not appear at the trial.

Gasoline production in the United States in 1900 was 7 [illegible] barrels; in 1945 it was 750,0[illegible] barrels.

Harding Senior Play Scores Hit With Palace Audience

Cast Presents Comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," Under Direction of Mrs. N. S. Hearn.

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Life as lived by the Sycamore family and their friends in the Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," presented as the annual class play by Harding High school seniors, provided an evening of real entertainment for an audience that packed the Palace theater for the performance Wednesday night.

Presented by a cast that seemed admirably fitted to their roles, the players gave a uniformly excellent performance and the story moved at a pace which left the audience without a dull moment. Packed with humor and homey philosophy, the cast made the most of their lines which were very well timed and equally well delivered.

The time was the pre-war days of 1937, relief lines and the WPA, and the setting the livingroom of the home of Martin Vanderhoff in New York. "Grandpa" Martin Vanderhoff, head of the household, who found his interest in collecting snakes, attending commencement exercises and receiving letters from the government regarding his income tax, was played by Ray Ballinger, and the love interest centered on Alice Sycamore, warm - hearted and practical, played by Pat Owens, and Harry Wilhelm as "Tony Kirby," son of her employer Others in the cast were: Helen Beal, "Penelope Sycamore" author, artist and understanding when it came to her family; Martha Ann Midlam, "Essie Carmichael," her dancing daughter, Bernice Cosey, "Rheba," the observing maid, Laurence Feaver, "Paul Sycamore," inventing genius and father; Edward Preston, "Mr. De-Pinna," an iceman who came to deliver ice and remained eight years, Dick Smith, "Ed Carmichael," musician and husband of Essie; Harry Richardson, Jr., "Donald," on WPA; Donald Sloan, "Henderson," an income tax investigator, who is put to route by "grandpa," Paul R McAllister, Boris Kolenkhov," Essie's dancing teacher and friend of the family, Noel Corwin, "Mr. Kirby," father of Tony, who eventually learns to know and like the family; Maxine Unland, "Mrs Kirby" Tony's austere mother; Donna Clark, "Grand Duchess Olga," a waitress at Child's and a cook de luxe, Jack E Robbins, John Hachten and James Teitelbaum, "three officers" who investigate the goings on at the Sycamore home and are designated as "J" men by Penelope Sycamore.

Mrs. Hearn Director

The play was directed by Mrs N. S. Hearn to whom no small amount of credit is due for the performance Adding to the evening's entertainment was the music by the Harding orchestra, directed by Homer Huffman, instructor of instrumental music in the school. Senior girls, costumed in formals, served as ushers and were as decorative as they were helpful.

The audience expressed its appreciation in applause and at the close of the performance the cast returned to the stage to take a bow.

In the audience was a group of high school pupils from Lancaster who are staging the same show later this season. The play was presented yesterday afternoon to a large audience made up of juniors and seniors.

The stage setting was constructed by Earl Welch, and the program cover and art work was by Harry Richardson. Programs were printed by the printing classes of the High school under the direction of Mrs Henry Schaffer; the off-stage music was by LaVada Ellison and Wanda Mossbarger, a senior, played in the orchestra. Sound effects were by Gordon Dune.

E. E. HOLT IS SPEAKER AT MEETING OF CLASS

School Head Addresses Luncheon of Bible Group

E E Holt, superintendent of Marion city schools, opened the May lecture program of the Wednesday noon Bible class at the Y M C A. Wednesday, speaking on "The Challenge of the Public School" The talk was first in a series, the general theme of which will be 'The Challenge to the Christian Citizen," and which will examine the theme from the point of view of the educator, social worker, civic government leader, home maker and clergyman

Mr. Holt said that the educator is the steward of citizenship and the far-reaching influence teachers wield necessitates the choosing of them carefully. The teacher, Mr. Holt said, should possess sound character, a keen mind, love of God, and a real interest in bringing out all the potentialities of the children under his instruction The public school is responsible for giving children, particularly those from broken homes, a sense of security, he said He quoted the president of Rotary International, an English school man, who said he wished for the children under him a sense of Godliness, a sense of cleanliness, and a sense of humor.

Program chairman for May is William E Welpton The schedule is as follows: May 8, 'The Challenge of Local Government," speaker to be announced; May 15, "The Challenge of Social Welfare," Miss Jane Watters, Home Service secretary; May 22, 'The Challenge of the Home," Rev. Eldred Johnston, pastor of Central Christian church; May 29, "The Challenge of the Church," Rev William N. Hawley, pastor of Greenhill Community church of Cincinnati.

TRUMAN URGES RFC EXTENSION

Says Agency, Due To Expire Jan. 22, 1947, Needed for Postwar Activities.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 2 — Describing the Reconstruction Finance Corp as a major instrumentality for conducting postwar government business activities, President Truman today recommended that its statutory authority be extended beyond the present Jan. 22, 1947, expiration date.

The President also again told congress legislation providing premium payment subsidies to finance expansion of building materials was essential to provide an adequate supply of housing for returning veterans

In Budget Message

These recommendations were contained in a message transmitting the next fiscal year's budget proposal for all wholly-owned government corporations.

The export-import bank, Mr. Truman said, anticipates disbursements which may run as high as $2,000,000,000 on loans "to finance purchase of American commodities and to provide the necessary minimum credit for postwar reconstruction abroad"

The President asserted he regretted the necessity for saying that the continuance of several wartime subsidies was necessary "to hold the line against the forces of inflation"

He not only called for subsidies on building materials, recently rejected by the house, but also for prompt enactment by the house of legislation recently approved by the senate "designed to raise the long-run housing level of the nation"

The President then predicted commodity purchases during the 1947 fiscal year of 3 1 billion dollars would amount to less than half the 1945 levels He said subsidy payments of 1 8 billion dollars would be somewhat lower than in 1946

'On the other hand," the message continued, 'lending activity will jump from 2 5 to 4 4 billion dollars, as both domestic and foreign borrowers make use of the government's financial facilities.

Assets To Decline

'Total assets by the close of the fiscal year 1947 will be 16 1 billion dollars, a decline of over 300 million dollars during the fiscal year. Book value of plant and equipment will be 6 8 billion dollars. Outstanding loans will amount to 6 billion dollars Inventories of 1 3 billion dollars include 470 million dollars in metals and minerals declared surplus and available for transfer to stockpile

"For the group as a whole, a total net loss of 4 billion dollars is anticipated in the fiscal year 1947. Subsidy payments and losses on sales of surplus property, war housing, and other assets account for an estimated loss of 3 4 billion dollars"

Among other things the President recommended an appropriation of $921,000,000 to restore the capital impairment of the Commodity Credit Corp., as of June 30, 1945. He also recommended a reduction of $1,000,000,000 in the borrowing authority of the Federal Farm Mortgage Corp.

Newark Wins 3-2 Over Zanesville; Others Rained Out

By The Associated Press

Rain washed out half of the Ohio State league's baseball program last night, but in two games played the hometown squads gained sweet revenge for opening night losses.

Newark edged Zanesville's Dodgers, 3 to 2, in the second game of the young season, and Marion's Cardinals evened up their series with the Lima Terriers by taking a 4-to-2 decision.

The loop's other scheduled games—Richmond at Middletown and Springfield at Dayton—were rained out. By not playing, however, Springfield and Richmond, opening night victors, moved into a tie for first place with 1-0 records.

Pitcher Jim Parton of the Dodgers whiffed eleven Newark hitters in seven innings, but his wildness and loose defensive play gave the Moundsmen their three runs. Newark collected five hits, but none of them figured in the scoring. Zanesville was charged with two errors, three passed balls and Parton gave up six walks before being relieved by Steinberg.

The line scores:

Zanesville	000 001 010—2	6 2
Newark	101 001 00x—3	5 2

Parton, Steinberg and Horner; Trude and Bicknski.

Jones and LaDue Set for Hard Bout Tonight

Tonight's wrestling card at the Armory will feature a couple of rough boys, Rufus Jones, colored wrestler from New York, and Monty LaDue, French-Canadian woodsman. Both men have appeared here before. Promoter Les Fishbaugh says both men are usually disqualified for roughness but tonight the referee has instructions to let the match go to a finish.

In the semi-final Buck Weaver meets Steve Nenoff. Four 150 pound Marion boys will stage a tag team match to open the show at 8:30.

Campbell, 60, Still Dreams of Racing at 150 per on Water

By NORMAN J. BADDERLY
AP Newsfeatures

LONDON—Although he is nearly 61, Sir Malcolm Campbell, British speed ace who has set world records on land and water, still hopes to boost his own speedboat figure to 150 miles an hour—after which he plans to retire from record-breaking for good.

On Aug. 19, 1939, fifteen days before Britain declared war on Germany, Sir Malcolm set a world record of 141.74 m.p.h. on Lake Coniston, in Britain's lake district. When war broke out he put his "Bluebird" into cold storage on his estate in Surrey and turned to the business of war. His experimental work included the development of a special fast armored car and numerous modifications for tanks.

Wants To Be First

Now that he has been released from military service he is keen to prove that Bluebird can better its previous best. He was the first to travel 150 m.p.h. on land (in 1925) and he hopes to be first to achieve that speed on water. A one-ton German bomb dropped near the Bluebird during the war, but the boat was not damaged. The 28-foot-6-inch speedboat is still the fastest thing in design. If it can be ready in time, Sir Malcolm hopes to make the attempt in August. It is essential that the surface of the water be absolutely smooth for these high speeds, and it is more likely to be so in August than in any other month.

His 1927 land speed record of 174.224 m.p.h. on Pendine Sands on the Welsh coast by no means satisfied him and the following year he took another Bluebird motor car to Daytona Beach, Fla., to peg the world record a little higher. The Bluebird, built in the lush days of 1925, cost £20,000 (about $100,000 in those days).

In 1929 Campbell took Bluebird to the desolate, arid Verneuk Pan, in South Africa. That attempt was abandoned, however.

Campbell got the "Sir" in front of his name in 1931, when, with a new Bluebird, he set a world mark of 246.153 m.p.h. at Daytona. England went mad with delight. A civic reception awaited him when he returned to Southampton. King George V knighted him and the MacDonald Government of that day paid tribute at a special meeting in ancient Westminster Hall. Herbert Morrison, then Minister of Transport, voiced the government's approval.

Adds More Marks

Campbell added nearly 26 miles to his record at Daytona in February, 1933, when his Bluebird, fitted with a Schneider Trophy seaplane engine, averaged 272.108 m.p.h.

His first water-born Bluebird was launched on Scotland's Loch Lomond in 1937, and on Sept. 1 of that year he set a world mark of 126.32 m.p.h. on Lake Maggiore, beating his record the very next day with 129.5 m.p.h.

The following September he was back at Lake Geneva and then, in 1939, with war clouds spreading over Europe, he set the present record on home waters.

About his war service the veteran racer is reluctant to talk, but he was a familiar figure around the War Office in Whitehall. At first he commanded a motorcycle police company, but for the last several years he had been on secret experimental work for the combined operation staff.

"When we had few armored vehicles during the Battle of Britain I built a fighting armored car at home," he says. "Within three months 90 more were completed by the government."

After that, with the help of one member of his original staff of engineers, he built many other cars and devices "in my spare time."

Campbell checks Bluebird auto. It cost about $100,000 and traveled 272.108 mph in Florida in 1933.

Sir Malcolm Campbell's Bluebird which set a world record of 141.74 miles per hour in 1939.

Sir Malcolm expects that most speed records in the future—both on land, water and in the air—will be broken by the use of jet propulsion. He will not use this means of propulsion, however, because it would mean an entirely new boat.

JOHNSON OF TRIBE MAKES FIRST START

1945 Jinx of Yanks To Try for Clincher.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 2—Vic Johnson, slender southpaw who was a 1945 "jinx" of the New York Yankees, draws his first starting assignment today as the Cleveland Indians attempt to grab the deciding game of a three-game series with the Bronx Bombers.

As a rookie member of the Boston Red Sox last year Johnson notched two victories over the Yankees, who rebounded yesterday from their no-hit shutout by Bob Feller to topple the Indians 6 to 3.

Charley (Red) Ruffing, toiling for the Yankees under a "provisional" contract, proved he still can go yesterday by limiting the Redskins to four hits for his 266th major league victory.

Les Fleming, stocky Tribe first baseman, was the only Tribesman not puzzled by Ruffing's pitching. He slammed a home run and single, batting in two runs, in three trips to the plate.

Phil Rizzuto, New York leadoff batter, drove a double off Allie Reynolds in the first inning for the first Yankee hit in two days. Tommy Henrich, Massillon, (O.) slugger, played Rizzuto with a single and provided the Yankees' margin of victory with a three-run homer in the third inning.

33 IN 500-MILE RACE

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, May 2—The field for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway May 30 numbered 33 today with the arrival of three entries mailed before the deadline at midnight last night. The field will be trimmed to 33 starters in time trials to be held this month.

DEATH TAKES "LITTLE BILL"

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2—William (Little Bill) Johnson, the counterpart of William (Big Bill) Tilden, from whom Johnson wrested the national singles tennis crown in 1919, died last night of a heart attack. He was 51. Johnson won his net fame in his rivalry with Tilden from 1919 to 1925 in the national championships. Big Bill took back the singles crown in 1920. They teamed up to recapture the Davis cup for the U. S. from Australia and successfully defended it against the Australians' challenge from 1924 through 1926.

Philly Looks to Chapman and McCormick To Lift Teams Out of Cellar

Pre-War Pros Assist Lowly Phils And A's To Victories

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Philadelphia's faithful followers, long familiar with the dreary darkness of the dungeon, were pinning their hopes today on a pair of proven pre-war professionals to make them "see the light."

The long-suffering souls of the city of brotherly love, who have seen their two favorites—the Athletics and Phillies—finish in the big league basements 16 times in the last 11 years, feel that if anyone can drag these perennial pariahs out of the quagmire it is Sam Chapman of the A's and Frank Andrew McCormick of the Phils.

With the Athletics and Phillies currently ensconced in their familiar cellar abodes, about the only thing the Quaker die-hards have had to cheer about has been the stellar work of these two performers.

Chapman, back in the A's outfield after serving four years in the Naval Air Corps, has been the big gun of the Mackmen's so-called attack. His ninth inning home run yesterday, which gave the A's a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Browns, was his fourth in 14 games this season and his third in the last three playing days.

College Hero

The former University of California football hero who was graduated straight from the campus to the big leagues in 1938, has picked up 84 points in less than a week and now owns a creditable .296 batting mark with 10 runs batted in. In his final year before changing to Uncle Sam's uniform, the 30-year-old slugger cracked out 25 homers and drove in 108 runs on a .322 batting average.

McCormick, purchased for around $40,000 from the Cincinnati Reds during the winter, has played brilliantly at first base for the Phils despite a bothersome back. He made only one hit yesterday, but that was his second home run of the campaign and added in the Phils' third win in a dozen games, an 8-0 shutout over the Pittsburgh Pirates. In a dozen games, the Bronx-born Irishman has 15 bingles in 45 times at bat for a neat .333 batting mark.

Another ex-serviceman, Ike Pearson, pitched the shutout. The 27-year-old righthander held the Bucs to five scattered hits in his initial 1946 start.

Tigers Are Tamed 13-1

The American league leading Boston Red Sox, off to their finest start in years, virtually skinned the Detroit Tigers alive with a 13-1 shellacking that thrilled a paid hometown attendance of 23,371. Outfielder George (Cat) Metkovich stole the thunder from his more renowned teammates—Ted Williams, Rudy York and Bobby Doerr—by belting a trio of Tiger tosses for four hits together with a pair of walks, to lead the Sox 12-hit attack.

Sophomore Dave (Boo) Ferriss tamed the Tigers with four scattered safeties in annexing his second consecutive victory which stretched the Sox string to six straight.

Led by Charlie (Red) Ruffing, who registered his 265th mound triumph in his 21st season, the New York Yankees rebounded from Tuesday's hitless performance against Bobby Feller and Cleveland to scalp four Indian hurlers for nine hits and a 6-3 victory. Tommy Henrich, with a homer and single, batted in four runs to keep the McCarthymen two games behind the league leading Red Sox.

Dodgers Up Again

Brooklyn's dazzling Dodgers climbed back into a first place National league tie with St. Louis' Cardinals by stopping the Chicago Cubs 5-1, behind the six hit twirling of Harold Gregg. Dick Whitman, only member of the Dodgers' "youth movement" still in action, enjoyed a perfect afternoon at the plate with five for five.

Hurler Gives Dodgers "Head" Start in Race

BROOKLYN'S ED HEAD—HIS PITCH, FOLLOW THROUGH AND SMILE
Associated Press Newsfeatures

BROOKLYN—If the Brooklyn Dodgers don't win the National League pennant this season they can't say they didn't have a Head start. Ed Head's recent no-hit, no-run game against Billy Southworth's Boston Braves was just about the greatest thing that happened in Brooklyn since the Dodgers came roaring into town with the 1941 pennant.

Head is 27 years old, six-feet-one, weighs 180 pounds and gets an acre of Louisana ground from his father whenever he comes up with a shutout. He pitched left-handed until 1935 when he broke his arm in a school bus accident. In Florida he was a right-handed question mark and didn't get to throw a ball until after 16 days in camp.

Head's best year with the Dodgers was 1942 when he won his first five games to lead the league. He petered out, though, winning only 10 while losing six for the season. In the army for the past two years he now has an army of rooters in Brooklyn where they go wild every time a Dodger does something unusual.

Softball Skeds Set by 4 Loops

Schedules for four softball leagues including 28 teams were set up Wednesday night at a meeting of the Marion softball commission at the Y.M.C.A.

The leagues are the Sunday School league, the Industrial league, and Nos. 1 and 2 Commercial leagues. The Sunday school league will play Monday nights, Industrial Tuesdays, Commercial No. 1 Thursdays, and Commercial No. 2 Fridays. Postponed games will be played on Wednesdays.

Play will get underway Monday, May 6. Games will start at 6:15. Ed Cheney, president of the softball commission, has announced that completed player rosters must be turned in to Kenny Somerlot, commission secretary, by Saturday at the Y.

The leagues are set up as follows: Sunday School league—B'nai B'rith, Forest Lawn, Greenwood, Presbyterian, St. Marys, Trinity Baptist, Wesley Methodist, United Brethren; Industrial league—Army Air Forces, Fairfield, Huber, Marion Metal, Marion Engineer Depot, Pollak Steel, Commercial Steel, Universal Cooler; Commercial No. 1—A's Place, Isaly Dairy, McMillen Feed, Moose, Borden's Dairy, Schlairet, Transfer; Commercial No. 2—General Excavator, Phalanx, DeMolay, Co. M, V.F.W., Tong Implement of Waldo.

Winner of Commercial No. 2 league will move up to Commercial No. 1 league next year. Sixth place club in the No. 1 league will be dropped to the No. 2 league.

Diamonds to be used are McKinley Park, Garfield Park, Marion Metal diamond, and Marion Power Shovel diamond if arrangements for the latter can be made.

Umpires Also Meet

An umpires' meeting was also held at the Y Wednesday night. T. H. McKenney presided. Sixteen prospective umpires were present. It was announced that umpires' school will be held at the Y every Wednesday night and that anyone wishing to become a softball umpire is welcome to attend. New and old rules will be studied, as well as good umpiring methods. Tests will be given for certification at the end of the course. Fees for umpiring in city softball games will be $1 a game for plate umpire and half a dollar for base umpire.

Harding Games Set

The Harding High school baseball team will meet the team from Caledonia High school at 4 o'clock today at the stadium field, it was announced today by William Wiley, coach. They will play Richwood at Lincoln park at 4 o'clock tomorrow.

Horse To Race Here Wins at Santa Anita

Ensign Hanover, pacing champion who is entered in the three-year-old race at the Little Grand Circuit meet here June 15 to July 5, made it two in a row at the Santa Anita Harness meet at Arcadia, Calif., according to an Associated Press report. Owned by Castleton Farms of Lexington, Ky., the undefeated three year old won the mile race Wednesday after winning his western debut by two lengths the day before. Ensign Hanover paced the distance in 2:03.2 Wednesday, bettering his 2:06 time of the previous day. He paid $3.20 straight.

22 Race Horses Die in $500,000 Blaze

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 2—Twenty two race horses perished early today in a fire which swept through a barn at the Arlington Park race track in suburban Arlington Heights. A spokesman for the track estimated the horses, property of the Maine Chance farm owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, were valued at $500,000.

Mrs. Graham's six nominees for the Kentucky Derby, including the favorite Lord Boswell, were in Louisville for the Saturday classic.

Beat-The-Favorite Club Likes Even "Dark Jungle" In Derby

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2—The "Knock-Down-The-Favorite" club moved in for its annual Kentucky Derby delirium today and decided that if Lord Boswell is going to lose, it might very well be Dark Jungle, simply because no one knows much about him except he can run.

Now, the KDTF fraternity was just as dizzy, at the moment, as anyone else in this Derby-daffy city which is bulging at the seams. The withdrawal of the popular In Earnest yesterday, on top of the previous elimination of Mist O'Gold, figured to make Saturday's scramble easier for Lord B, what with two of its classier challengers scratched and the muddy track threatening others.

The one to beat is, of course, the sturdy, stretch-running Lord Boswell from the barn of Mrs. Elizabeth Graham.

Some say he'll have a tougher time finding room to run through 16 other horses than he did in sailing past a comparative handful in the Blue Grass.

Which would mean that some one of Lord B's closer rivals might give him the horse laugh—something, to say, like the come-from-behind Texas Assault, or Romping Rippey, flashy winner of the Derby Trial mile Tuesday, or front-running Hampden from Delaware, or Spy Song, who didn't show too much heart in the trial.

But the guy who insists Dark Jungle will win the big race—is that you can look for a red hot basketball team at Alderson-Broaddus college (West Virginia) next winter. . . . Charley Jones, manager of Sammy Angott, is so worked up about breeding his own race horses that he is ready to offer a half million bucks for one of the oldest breeding farms in the blue-grass region.

But that's not what the KDTF club wants. It tries to tell you anything as open as this race almost had to uncover a winner who'll be as overlooked as an orphan by the betting boys and girls.

Which is where Dark Jungles comes in, although if you're playing that system, it might just as well be With Pleasure, the Chicago candidate who ran a steady third in the trial in his first 1946 job, or Pellicle, who was seconded in the Blue Grass, or Marine Victory, who can take off out in front with any of them.

The average cost of drilling oil wells has increased more than one-third from the prewar price.

as if Roseberry would repeat his usual performance. But he went to the well once too often.

Beside got a single and two Lima runs came in. McLeod got on by a fielder's choice as the double play failed. Then Curnal singled and Molloy, who will hurl tomorrow's game at Lima, began warming up.

Manager Charley Moore sent Slater, a pitcher, in to pinch hit for Shook. He grounded out.

Lima threatened again in the ninth but failed to live up to the threat. Manager Moore, batting for Smith, hit a double. Roseberry demonstrated again that he seems to work best under terrific pressure as he struck out pinch hitter Distler, made Oaer fly out to left, and Broecker ground out pitcher to first.

Begin Road Trip

Tomorrow night the Cardinals make their first appearance in a foreign park as they help Lima open its home season. Molloy will hurl for Marion while Heeney will go on the mound for the Terriers.

After a two night stand at Lima, the Birds will play three games, including a double header Sunday, at Newark. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week they will be at Zanesville, returning to Lincoln Park Thursday, May 9, for a three-day series with Newark and three games with Zanesville. Two of the games with Zanesville will be played Sunday, May 12.

The team will live in the visited city whenever it is on a road trip.

There were some 1,200 fans at last night's game, 500 on "first night" tickets.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2—At first view, Churchill Downs looks like the gosh darndest mud pie you ever saw and it might be a good idea to keep that in mind if you're figuring on a wager of a few pesos in the Derby Saturday. . . . There were only a few showers yesterday but the ancient racing strip, reputed to dry out quickly, still was so deep in mud that you could hear the horses' feet squish clear up in the roof-top press box—that is, when the favorite was losing. The customers still managed to drown out the splashing when a horse they liked came down in front. . . . Jockey Johnny Longden says he made two mistakes when Spy Song bogged down and was beaten by Rippey in the Derby trial. That's one over par.

The Marines Was Landed

Marine Victory, one of the lesser lights of the Derby field, probably is the most kicked-around horse of the 17 that are expected to start Saturday—and all because he was considered "unsound"—a polite way of saying he can't run—as a youngster.

Loose in Louisville

Hottest tip this dept. has recorded—outside of the one from the guy who insists Dark Jungle will win the big race—is that you can look for a red hot basketball team at Alderson-Broaddus college (West Virginia) next winter. . . . Charley Jones, manager of Sammy Angott, is so worked up about breeding his own race horses that he is ready to offer a half million bucks for one of the oldest breeding farms in the blue-grass region.

Yankees' Press Club "Out of This World"

MacPhail Spares Nothing To Give Stadium Quarters Night Club Atmosphere.

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Writer

NEW YORK — You get off the subway, walk two long blocks to the Press entrance, flash your pass, take the modernistic elevator run by a girl wearing a jockey's cap and the first thing you know you're "out of this world."

That's about the best way to describe the MacPhaillian surroundings in Yankee Stadium. It may be the park "that Ruth built" but Larry MacPhail seems to have left nothing unturned to get in the last word.

However, unless you're a newspaperman or belong to the 400, more commonly known as the "Stadium Club," you can't get to see how purty it is. The 400 patrons are season box seat holders who have the privilege of riding the elevator to the mezzanine where there are two huge concessions.

These are known as Units No. 1 and 2—they had to do it that way because people are getting lost in the Stadium whenever the Yankees are home. Both units have a night club atmosphere. The only thing missing is a rhumba band. For those tired businessmen who are interested in the game and still want to sip a soda—or something stronger—there are dozens of loud speakers which bring the play-by-play of the games being played in the same park.

LARRY MACPHAIL
His Ideas Pay Dividends

In case you get to be a visiting fireman some time this summer and know a member of the "Stadium Club," Unit No. 1 is the old Press Club. Unit No. 2 is where the Yankees used to count tickets and money. There's a report rampant now that MacPhail has built a subterranean vault to count the dough. That's how well the Yanks have been drawing.

The new Press Club is on the same floor with the units. It isn't as large as the one Larry MacPhail built in Ebbets Field but then the popular redhead can always knock out a Stadium wall just to keep the scriveners happy.

There was only one Babe Ruth and it is likely that there will be only one MacPhail. His ideas have paid dividends in two other big league cities.

While general manager at Cincinnati he was the first to bring night baseball to the majors. Then he came east and moved across the river to Brooklyn where the Dodgers had a $400,000 mortgage to pay off. He put up lights and the Brooks were out of the red.

With millionaire co-owners Dan Topping and Del Webb, MacPhail is spending $850,000 in refurbishing the Stadium. One of the big items is the erection of a $250,000 lighting system on six huge towers for seven night baseball attractions.

Another big improvement in the park is the size of the box seats. Shaped to fit the body they are four inches wider than the former chair. But for the fact that the Yanks have a couple of guys named Joe DiMaggio and Charley Keller you could almost fall asleep in the seats. They are that restful.

If MacPhail doesn't set a major league attendance mark this season, blame it on the weather. Otherwise the setting is perfect.

As Feller Hurdled No-Hitter For Indians

BOBBY FELLER, great young pitching star of the Cleveland Indians, makes baseball history again by hurling a no-hit, no-run game against the Yankees in New York. Feller previously hurled a no-hitter against the Chicago White Sox on opening day in 1940. Above Feller has just breezed a fast one past Joe DiMaggio of the Yanks. At the right Feller went into the dressing room to congratulate Catcher Frankie Hayes for his home run sock which won the game for Bobby. Young Feller in turn gets the congrats from Hayes. Entries, the time of the race and further details of the meet will be announced Monday, officials of the club said today.

Major League Ball Parks Undergo $2,000,000 "Face Lifting"

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—Major league club owners, confident that this will be their best season at the turnstiles, have plunked $2,000,000 on the line in renovating their parks.

Two clubs, the New York Yankees and Boston Braves, have installed lighting systems, leaving only three parks without night baseball. These are Detroit's Briggs Stadium, the Chicago Cubs' Wrigley Field and Fenway Park, home of the Boston Red Sox.

The Cubs, however, intend to install lights eventually.

While the trend of the national pastime definitely caters to after dark games—there will be 63 in the American league and 64 in the National—the magnates continue to make improvements that should lure the feminine fan.

The Yankees, Braves, Brooklyn Dodgers and Detroit Tigers have spent a collective $100,000 for the latest in powder rooms and women's lounges.

The American league, headed by the Yankee expenditure of $850,000, is spending approximately $1,100,000 while National league projects run close to $900,000.

Ohio improvements include:

The Cleveland Indians have painted Municipal Stadium, where they play their big attractions, and League Park.

Outside of fresh paint the only change in Crosley Field, Cincinnati, is the right field fence. It was moved in about 25 feet. However, left handed pull hitters still have to blast the ball 363 feet to get it over. The entire cost was about $20,000.

Women's Club Holds Social in Crestline

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, May 2 — Mrs. Wilbur Magers assisted by Mrs. John Fisher, Mrs. Frank Ralfsnyder and Mrs. J. A. Hunter entertained the Loyal Gleaners class of First English Lutheran church Monday night.

Mrs. O. A. Ifforth presided and Mrs. Fisher led devotions with Mrs. S. A. Metzger at the piano.

A friendly letter was written to Mrs. R. T. Helfrich who has been ill for several weeks.

Contest prizes were awarded Mrs. E. T. Remy, Mrs. George Glauer, Mrs. John Steffey and Mrs. Harry Cassel.

Crawford Co. Plans $23,469 Ditch Job

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, May 2 — One of the county's most important ditches, the Tracht ditch, known as Mud Run, will be improved at a cost of $23,469, county commissioners announced today in awarding the contract for labor and materials to the Gannon Construction Co. of Nankin and Hancock Brick and Tile Co. of Findlay, respectively.

The ditch drains about 6,000 acres in Whetstone, Dallas and Bucyrus townships.

Seven contractors submitted bids for the work, expected to get underway within a week or ten days.

TREE OWNER WORRIED

By The Associated Press

LEWISTOWN, Mont. — Mrs. Odin Romaustad is convinced that spring is here, and she never takes a chance.

She moved her orange tree from her kitchen to the backyard—as she does every spring—and its nine fruit started to take on an orange color.

"I'm a little worried about the tree, though," she confided. "It's bearing only nine organges this year, and one time it had 60."

GRANGE WOMAN BURNED

ASHLEY — Mrs. Harold Shoemaker was severely burned when scalding water spilled over her right hand, while she was assisting with the refreshments in the Grange hall Monday night. She received treatment in the office of a local physician.

Crestline Club Votes Cancer Contribution

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, May 2—The Past Councillors Association of Good Hope Council Daughters of America met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Paul Winemiller. Miss Ethel Levy presided for the business session when plans were made to contribute $2 to the Cancer drive. In a contest Mrs. Lola Harris received the prize. Rook prizes were won by Mrs. F. W. Kodger, Mrs. John Minich, and Mrs. Glen Johnson. Lunch was served.

Mrs. W. H. Gelbach will be hostess in May.

HEADS MT. GILEAD POOL

MT. GILEAD, May 2 — Robert Blose, Mt. Gilead High school coach has been hired as manager of the Mt. Gilead municipal swimming pool. Blose started work on cleaning up the machinery, the pool and the municipal tennis courts on May 1. Opening of the pool is scheduled for Memorial Day, Thursday, May 30.

MT. GILEAD LIONS SIGN NOTES TO AID PROJECTS

Members Arrange $4,183 for Athletic Field Job.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, May 2 — Mt. Gilead Lions have signed notes for $4,183 to be used as collateral in financing improvements for the Mt. Gilead community athletic field. Only $6,000 is needed before the project can be started.

Plans for the Lion's Variety show to be presented on May 14 at Levering Hall in Mt. Gilead are nearly complete according to Gillison Witty, chairman.

The next meeting of the club will be Monday night, May 6, when Karl Kurtz, district governor, will speak. Dale Mosher will speak briefly as part of the returning service men series.

Ladies' night was held at the last meeting with approximately 90 Lions, wives and guests. John Zartman, magician from Tiffin, presented the program and Richard Johnston, music instructor at Mt. Gilead sang two selections.

Insurance Companies Sue Galion Firm

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, May 2 — F. J. Egner and Son, Inc., trucking firm of Galion, was named defendant in two suits filed in common pleas court today by 11 insurance companies in ten states, seeking $34,157.45 in damages as the result of a filling station fire in 1940 in Norwalk.

The plaintiff firms charge carelessness and negligence in the delivery of gasoline to a Norwalk filling station, causing the gasoline to overflow and catch fire.

HONEYMOON LANE

PORTLAND, Ore — The romance of the old Oregon Trail still beckons honeymoon couples.

When ex-Air Corpsman William D. Cody came home with his bride, they arrived in a two-passenger airplane Cody purchased in Ohio, making the 2,700-mile trip in 300-mile jumps and stopping at airports along the famous covered wagon trail across the prairie and mountain states.

CLAIM TITLES — Merle and Berle, six-year-old twin sons of Sam Owens of Hedley, Tex., claim the world's boxing championship for their weight and age. They meet each other at every opportunity but thus far it's always been a draw. They are 46 inches tall and weigh 48 pounds.

Their manager says it's hard to tell them apart although one has blue eyes and the other brown.

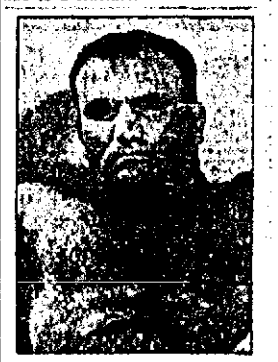

The boys have appeared in many exhibitions in the Texas Panhandle. They are putting part of the receipts in a bank jackpot to further their budding careers in the ring.

FRACTURE EPISODE

SOUTH PARIS, Me.—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cummings were well cast but it was not for drama.

Mrs. Cummings went to Portland with her husband who had a cast removed from a fractured leg.

On the return trip, Mrs. Cummings wore a cast on her left arm. The day before she had fallen but didn't realize until Portland hospital attendants told her, as she called for her husband, that pain she was suffering was due to a fracture.

WRESTLES BUCK WEAVER TONIGHT

In what looks like the best wrestle program of the season Buck Weaver, on his second appearance in over four years, will face the tough Bulgarian, Steve Nenoff, in the one-hour semi-final to the two-hour main event between Rufus Jones and Monty LaDue. It would be hard to say who is the rougher, LaDue or Jones, but one thing is certain, Marion fans will know after the match, for Tony Demore who will be referee is instructed not to disqualify either man and they will be on their own. A tag team match between four Marion boys weighing around 150 lbs. will open the show at 8:30. Prices (all taxes paid): General Admission 60 cents; Reserved Ringside 85 cents. PROBLEMS FOR THE BIG FOUR. Russia's determination to project herself westward into the Mediterranean confronts the Big Four council in Paris with its first major issue, and upon the decision reached may depend all of Moscow's future relations with the western powers. The original Soviet proposal was for a sole trusteeship over Tripolitania—which Britain's Ernest Bevin opposes as compromising a "knife across the throat" of the British empire—and the alternative of establishment of a UN trusteeship administered by Italy, which would be in accordance with the San Francisco charter. Russia's V. M. Molotov has hinted directly that the Soviet would also like single control over Eritrea's Red sea port of Massawa as well as the Dodecanese Islands, formerly an outpost of Mussolini's empire, now restored to Greece. Also harrying the foreign ministers are the Italian and Yugoslav differences over Trieste and its hinterland areas, but a plan, thought to have been completed, includes keeping the Adriatic port city in Italian territory as a free port under UN control and giving Yugoslavia the hinterland (International)

BUYERS CENTER ON SPECIALTIES AGAIN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 2—Buying interest again was centered on special stocks today while many market leaders contended unsuccessfully with light offerings.

The coal strike, threatening widespread industrial curtailment, continued to chill bullish sentiment. Dividends, earnings and splitups remained as speculative and investment props, as did the outlook for further relaxation of OPA price controls.

Dealings were slack throughout and quotations well mixed near the fourth hour.

In front most of the day were Gimbel, Distillers Corp., Hiram Walker, Sunray Oil, City Investing, Woolworth, J. C. Penney, Great Northern, Chesapeake & Ohio, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft and American Telephone.

Armco Negotiates $40,000,000 Loan

By The Associated Press

MIDDLETOWN, O., May 2—The American Rolling Mill Co. announced yesterday that it had concluded negotiations to borrow $40,000,000 from the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

Calvin Verity, executive vice president of Armco, said the loan would be used to pay off $15,500,000 in existing bank loans and to retire $25,000,000 of the company's 4½ per cent cumulative convertible preferred stock.

The loan carries a 2¾ per cent interest rate and is to be amortized over a 20-year period at the rate of $1,500,000 a year, beginning in 1947.

The preferred stock to be retired will be called on June 14. This will reduce the amount of Armco preferred outstanding to $20,000,000.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

IF the roof had opened above his head and the fragments of a bomb had descended upon him, I do not think Philip Veritzen would have been more surprised than at his regal wife's interruption of his speech, with its clever, covert, malicious insult to Mary.

But I relaxed in my chair, and I saw that Noel, Dicky and Mary, all of them tensely angry, were content to leave matters in the queenly and capable hands of Olga.

The brilliant impresario of Broadway, however, has been in too many ticklish situations to be nonplussed by anything for more than a second or two. For only an instant his eyes betrayed bleak astonishment. Then he forced a smile into them as he turned from his stepdaughter to her mother.

"Of course, my dearest," he said, with impressive, formal courtesy, "You know that you never could interrupt me. What is it you wish to say?"

Olga did not rise, but in some odd fashion, her tautly erect figure, scorning a chair back, gave me, at least, the impression that she was standing as she spoke.

Evidently Forgotten

"I could not let your last statement go unchallenged, my dear Phillip," she said, "for I remember, what you evidently have forgotten, that the most beloved, the most revered of the queens of Trees, was what is so mistakenly called a 'commoner.'

"She was the great-grandmother of Georges, the present king—poor lad, without even the semblance of a throne! Of course every sort of pressure was brought to bear upon Georges' great grandfather, and when he remained adamant in his decision to wed her or to renounce the throne, the powers that were in Trees invented all sorts of mumbo-jumbo to create a title and fortune for her, simply because there was no possible claimant for the throne fit to be a king."

Her voice was delicately disdainful as she spoke of the activities of the "powers that were," and I was maliciously delighted to see that Philip Veritzen's face, while still maintaining its smiling composure, was distinctly reddened.

That he had known of this long past episode in the archives of Trees royalty, I was sure, but he distinctly had not counted on Olga's bringing it up at he moment of his flowery tribute to her daughter.

Something Else

"And there is something else which I must say," Olga went on tranquilly, "before I give you back your position as toastmaster with my humblest apologies for interrupting you."

Her husband opened his mouth to protest again, but she went smoothly on, without appearing to notice his effort.

"I am sure that Olina joins with me in wishing to put behind us for ever all the trappings of royalty. Neither I nor mine want any more of throne. I am anxious that my son, Pietro, who has fought so bravely for our country, be elected the democratic president of that country when it shall regain its power of choice, but not unless the people want it. And I am sure that Georges does not wish a throne, but is planning an American business career, if God pleases to spare his life.

Treasures Her Ring

"And I am sure," Olga finished, "that Olina treasures her ring, not because it is a symbol of monarchy, but because it belonged to Georges' mother, to his grandmother, and to his illustrious great-grandmother, 'the commoner.' And now, dear Philip, I have finished. Pray forgive me!"

"Please do not use that word again, my dearest," he said, and there was sincerity in his voice. "It has no place between you and me."

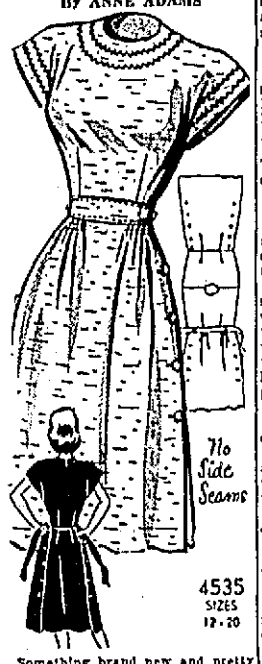

I knew that if he could have reached her, he would have raised her hand to his lips and kissed it reverently.

"And now," he said, with unimpaired dignity, "I have the honour to announce the betrothal of Princess Olina of Transvania, to King Georges of Trees."
